S. D. Public Library G

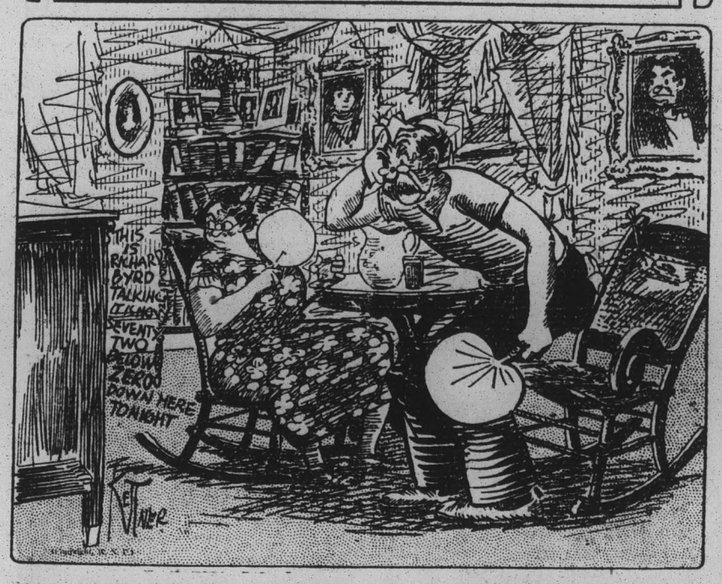
THE OCEAN BEACH NEWS

NRA MEMBER U.S. WE DO OUR PART

A Booster for Ocean Beach, Point Loma, Mission Bay and Mission Beach

TWELFTH YEAR, No. 37 | OCEAN BEACH CALIFORNIA | FRIDAY, JULY 13, 1934 | PHONE, BAYVIEW 0741 | FIVE CENTS THE COPY

A Hundred in the Shade



INLAND FOLKS LISTEN TO COMMANDER BYRD

Strong Sentiment Favor Building Fishing Pier at Ocean Beach

For the past two years the Ocean Beach Chamber of Commerce has been endeavoring at various times to interest San Diego in the building of a fishing pier at this point, which is a proven ground for fishing from rocks and surf. It has had an enviable reputation in this line for 100 years or more.

Just two weeks ago it was learned that unskilled labor as well as some material might be secured thru SERA so John L. Bacon, administrator, was contacted. Mr. Bacon favored the plan and the local committee went to City Manager Lockwood who also approved and got a plan and estimate of a small pier to be 1,000 feet long; the first 800 feet to be only 10 feet wide while the ocean end of 200 feet should have a width of 20 feet, to allow for fishermen and others. The material it was estimated would cost $11,190 with the construction cost $5,100, total cost of pier $16,290.

The proposition came before the council Monday last and Councilman Al Bennett gave a very favorable talk for the pier. It was understood the city's expense at this time would be $5,000 to $6,000, and Bennett asked the council just how many thousand dollars they had put into Balboa park the past year. It appeared to be $250,000, so Bennett insisted the council do something for the beaches. He said visitors come here to see the ocean and we have nothing to keep them but Mission Beach. He said we should build this pier so that people would not have to go to Santa Monica and other places farther north.

It was a new project to some of the councilmen, especially those who have not been in office more than a week or ten days, so upon motion of Councilman Dan Rossi the discussion in regard to a pier was laid over for a week.

Thousands of people want a fishing pier at Ocean Beach, hundreds who do not live here favor the plan. They know it is the logical place, and we can truthfully say that Ocean Beach should have a pier 1600 to 2000 feet long, of sufficient width to accommodate several thousand people and to have room on it for a bait and tackle store, a lunch stand as well as boating accommodations. The construction of the fishing pier at Oceanside has doubled the population of that city since 1926. They have a magnet which draws the tourist who seeks this form of sport, and after once enjoying its pleasures, they are held by this fascinating pastime and very often become permanent residents.

It is surprising to many the number of people who are conversant with conditions here and favor a plan which would give us this much needed improvement. The local Chamber of Commerce received on Wednesday a copy of a letter addressed to the city manager by Hal H. Hobson, secretary of the San Diego Public Safety Committee, in which he addresses Mr. Lockwood as follows: "This committee is advised of a proposal to build a pleasure pier at Ocean Beach which would provide accommodations for those desiring to fish particularly, and the Committee recognizes the immediate relief of the dangerous conditions which now exists on the bridge connecting Ocean Beach and Mission Beach, by the building of such a pier for recreation. We heartily endorse the project."

This whole page might be taken up with endorsements of the proposition by local people, as well as business men of San Diego and city and county officials, but the main thing now is action by the council next Monday. They should and can surely appropriate a few thousand dollars to furnish the city's share of such a worthwhile project that will furnish labor for the unemployed, and then pleasure and food for hundreds of others as soon as it is completed.

KIWANIANS HEAR OUTLINE OF SYNCROTAX

At the Wednesday noon luncheon at the Ocean Village cafe, Rollin Reed was chairman of the day, having for speaker J. Frank Knoche, authority on the new and revolutionary tax system known as Syncrotax. By this plan there will be no other tax than an income tax, the proponents of which say they think 1½ per cent tax on all transactions will bring in enough revenue to conduct the affairs of our state. It is estimated that there is about 40 to 50 billion dollars a year changing hands in taxable transactions under this system, which would bring in a revenue great enough to keep up the running expense of all local and state government, the last report available for this need being $458,000,000. All land would be tax exempt as well as a great many securities.

Rev. James Hughes, new minister at the M. E. church, was a guest of Myron Insko.

COLORADOANS LIKE OCEAN BEACH

Mrs. Stanley Martin and two children of La Junta, Colorado, recently arrived in Ocean Beach and as this is not Mrs. Martin's first visit here she knew she would be satisfied and has made arrangements to stay all winter as well as thru the summer months.

Mrs. Albert Dobbins and two children, also of La Junta, friends of Mrs. Martin and the P. M. Burrows family, are also in Ocean Beach for the summer.

Ocean Beach Of Other Days

(WINIFRED DAVIDSON)

(Historian, San Diego Historical Society, author of "Where California Began," "True California Romances" and other historical works.)

XXXVII
THE WAVE MOTOR

More than one Ocean Beach pioneer, standing on the bridge that leads to Mission Beach, can recall the time when there was no means of crossing that swift rush of waters except by boat; can recall the interesting attempt that was made here early in this century to control and utilize the waste power of the flooding and ebbing seas hereabouts.

Mrs. Rachel I. Loring of 2144 F street, San Diego, who owns several cottages on Abbott street and who was one of the earliest real estate owners here, recalling the Shaniel Brothers — Pete and Nick — who were contractors and builders, doing a considerable amount of work at the beach a generation ago, remembered their connection with the Jones Wave Motor, the remains of which can be seen to this day on the beach between Del Monte and Santa Cruz avenues. Mrs. Loring was still enthusiastic about the possibilities of that piece of machinery, wondering if it might not yet be feasible to utilize the tremendous wave power in the generation of cheap electricity — electricity which should be within reach of everyone in this and in Imperial county at a very low cost.

Frank B. McElwee, pioneer beach resident, knew these shores better than anyone else in San Diego during those early years, but it hapened that he was absent in Mexico when the Jones wave motor was built. It was not being operated, but everything was practically ready for operation.

Many changes can take place in twenty years. Peter B. Shaniel, who was much interested in the wave motor, died a few weeks ago; and his brother Nick does not remember details in regard to it. Alexander N. Jones, inventor of the machine and of other water wheels for use on the irrigation canals in Imperial valley, died eight years ago. His widow still lives in the home they occupied when the Jones invention was the chief topic of interest in San Diego county, at 620 32nd street.

Mrs. Jones has many papers and clippings referring to the wave motor, a picture of it and an excellent small model; so that when she can find time to put this material in order, the whole story if the invention, the inventor, the dream of vast cheap power and the reasons for the frustration of plans can be told and handed on to others who perhaps will have the wisdom to build it anew, and make it work.

It was a very wonderful machine. It was devised so that both flowing and ebbing tide would set in motion the wheels whose rotation would generate electricity; and was undoubtedly the only wave motor ever invented which would work constantly, which need not "lay off" — so to speak — when the tide was not quite right.

The wave motor project failed not because of defects in the Jones invention but because of misunderstandings and lack of agreement among those who were trying to promote it.

Alexander N. Jones demonstrated a very interesting water wheel in one of the canals in Imperial valley where the fields to be irrigated lay much higher than the canal.

Next week — The Beach Zoo.

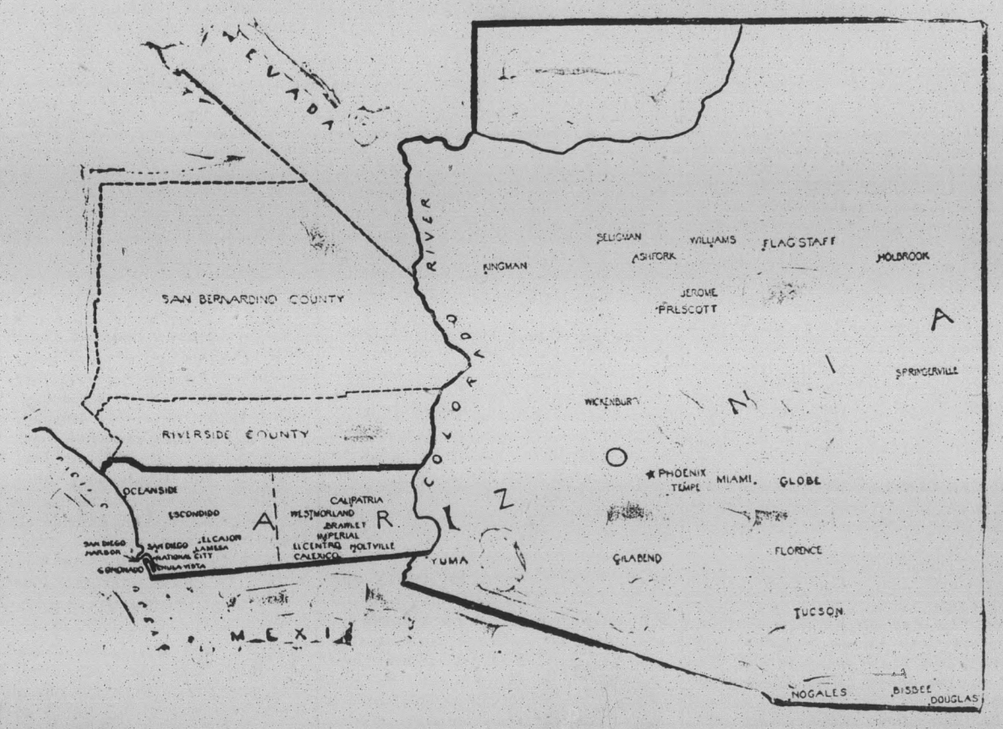
OF INTEREST TO EPISCOPALIANS

The Rev. Raymond T. McDonald S.S,J.E., of the Church of the Advent, San Francisco is the house guest of Dr. and Mrs. John Parks Gilmer of 4876 West Point Loma Blvd. Until July 23, Father McDonald will hold an early Celebration daily at Trinity Episcopal church at 8 a. m. The Sunday service will be at the same hour with Father Henry Bedinger celebrating. A cordial invation is extended to those of all creeds.

Hastings Says New State Would Be Better Than Proposed County Consolidation.



Would Make Seaport For Arizona---More Recognition For San Diego

ARIZONIA

This is the era of the New Deal. Many social, political, economic and financial changes will be made.

A move to consolidate the fifty-eight counties in California into five large counties is being sponsored by many prominent citizens. It is advocated that a large county be formed in Southern California to be known as "Los Angeles County", which will include San Diego and Imperial counties.

Would it not be more advantageous to San Diego and Imperial counties to be annexed to the State of Arizona when so many of our interests are identical? This would give Arizona a much desired seaport and a fine harbor. It would place San Diego county two hundred and Imperial county four hundred miles closer to the State Capitol at Phoenix.

Our College would have a real college rating, something that seems hopeless as long as it remains under the control of the Board of Regents at Berkeley.

San Diego and Imperial Valley would have two senators in Washington fighting for our interests instead of one from Los Angeles and one from San Francisco. We would have some prestige in the national capital when some of the more thickly populated districts to the north endeavored to take our Navy and other military activities away from us or to appropriate our share of the natural resources.

If the state of Arizona, Imperial and San Diego counties would pool their water, light and power interests in the Boulder Dam and other sources, we could build an empire in the Southwest second to none.

Possibly we might get our share of SERA and other Federal funds and not be called "the forgotten county".

The advantages of Arizona having a fine seaport should not be minimized, An outlet for their agricultural and mineral products to all parts of the world is greatly desired. San Diego is discriminated against in the matter of freight rates much to our financial loss. This new consolidation should remedy this.

These are only a few of the many advantages to be gained by annexation.

Under the New Deal a National Planning Board is set up. State Planning Boards have been appointed and divided into districts. California, Nevada, Utah and Arizona are in Division No. 12. The changing of county or state boundaries where desirable will come before them for recommendation as part of their Board duties.

Some may say that the annexation of San Diego and Imperial counties to the State of Arizona cannot be done. It certainly can if the people of the sections interested demand it. This is now a new thought; it has been considered before, but now is the time for action if the people want it.

For the benefit of those who may desire a new name, the addition of the letter "i" between the "n" and "a" might answer the purpose altho a new name is unnecessary.

Any suggestions, criticisms or comments will be appreciated.

(Signed) Edgar F. Hastings
County Supervisor
San Diego, California

Los Angeles, Fresno, Sacramento & San Francisco Plan Five Counties For California.

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE ELECTS THREE DIRECTORS

At the regular monthly meeting Monday evening of the Ocean Beach Chamber of Commerce the following were elected to the board of directors: Dr. Harry E. Bailey, P. M. Burrows and Arthur Hubbard.

Considerable business was transacted in regard to the proposed fishing pier at Ocean Beach and it was the opinion of the club that the pier should be built from the foot of Del Monte avenue unless the engineers decided it would be more feasable elsewhere.

The secretary was instructed to write the Auto club of Southern California asking that a road sign be placed at intersection of W. Point Loma Blvd., and the Causeway, directing beach traffic to Ocean Beach and Mission Beach.

While club members were greatly enthused in regard to progress made and cooperation received from officials in regard to San Diego building a fishing pier at this point it was urged that every person now take a lively interest in the matter and help bring it to a successful conclusion, which it was believed could be done if everyone helped.

THE POPULAR CORNER

At Kraft's, the popular corner
Is the place where you can buy
Drinks that are refreshing
From the heat that made you dry—

Ginger ale, or soda,
Lemonade or lime,
Phosphates, sundaes,
Ice Cream sublime.

At Kraft's, the popular corner
Is the place where you can buy
Ices, creams and sodas
At prices not too high.

KRAFT'S DRUG STORE
Cor. Newport and Bacon.

COPIES OF VETERANS' FARM AND HOME LOAN BILL NOW AVAILABLE

Copies of assembly bill 1560, supplementing the Veterans Farm and Home Purchase Act of 1921, and known as the Veterans' Bond Act of 1933, providing for a $30,000,000 bond issue to be voted next November are now available at the chamber of commerce according to Assemblyman George B. Bowers, 78th district.

In a recent address here, approval of this measure, of which Assemblyman Bowers is co-author, was recommended by Governor Merriam as an aid to recovery in that the money voted is to provide loans for the purchase of farms and homes for veterans.

CHURCH WELCOMES PASTOR

Point Loma M. E. church, Ocean Beach, held a reception for its new minister, the Rev. James Hughes, and Mrs. Hughes Wednesday. Dr. O. E. Thayer gave the address of welcome and a music program was presented.

News Review of Current Events the World Over

Congress Quits, Having Done Most Things the President Asked—Steel Strike Postponed—Roosevelt's Daughter in Nevada, Presumably for Divorce.

By EDWARD W. PICKARD

© by Western Newspaper Union.

AFTER several days of hectic work, pushing through the last measures labeled "must" by the administration and a host of other bills demanded by various members, the Seventy-third congress closed its second session. The measures passed during this session include some of the basic laws of the New Deal and considerable elaboration and modification of laws passed last year in addition to the regular appropriation bills and a normal amount of necessary routine legislation.

As in the first session, President Roosevelt was in full control, though the legislators displayed a more critical attitude and a tendency to give proposed legislation closer scrutiny before giving it their approval. This could not be attributed to a lessening of the President's influence or of the confidence in him, but rather to the fact that the members of congress didn't wish longer to be labeled as "yes men." On the whole Mr. Roosevelt succeeded in getting what he asked and in preventing what he did not want.

Several measures that had the backing of the administration failed of passage. These included the oil bill, ardently desired by Secretary Ickes; the pure food and drug bill, which never came to a vote; the ratification of the St. Lawrence waterway treaty; and a series of amendments amplifying and clarifying the powers of the AAA.

In its closing hours the congress spent money like water, indulging in what Congressman Britten of Chicago called "an orgy of spending such as never has been known in the history of the world during peace times." The last of the major bills disposed of were:

The deficiency appropriation bill, allotting the President more than two billion three hundred million dollars for relief and other emergency purposes.

The one billion dollar housing bill to promote the revival of the building trades and of the durable goods industries.

The Frazier bill for relief of farm mortgagors.

The bill amending banking legislation.

The railway labor bill.

WILLIAM GREEN, president of the American Federation of Labor, succeeded where President Roosevelt, Administrator Johnson and all others had failed. He appeared before the delegates of the steel workers' unions at Pittsburgh and persuaded them at least to postpone their threatened strike. The plan which he offered, and which may lead to a permanent settlement of the controversy, in brief provides:

Earl J. Forbeck

Establishment of a three-man board by the President to adjudicate and mediate all violations of code on matters of discrimination against employees.

To insure the right of workers to organize, empowering the board to hold and supervise industrial elections for collective bargaining representatives.

All grievances or complaints would be referred to the board for final decision.

If acceptable to labor, capital, and the federal government, the strike would be called off permanently.

Leaders of the "rank and file" steel workers, including Earl J. Forbeck and other chiefs of local unions, were especially bitter in their attitude toward General Johnson, and were still eager for a strike, but they were outnumbered and the Green plan was adopted as a basis for further negotiations. The union leaders went to Washington for a final decision. They carried authority to call the strike if the peace plan were rejected by the government or the steel operators.

IN A formal letter, accompanied by a long explanation, the code authority of the cleaners and dyers has notified the President that it has withdrawn its consent to the code. The reason assigned for this action is that Administrator Johnson, acting by authority of the President, suspended the minimum price and other fair trade practice provisions of the code while leaving in effect all other provisions, including those establishing minimum wages and maximum hours of labor.

The cleaners and dyers say that with operating costs greatly increased by the labor provisions it is impossible to make a profit unless a minimum price is established and enforced.

In its appended explanation the code authority challenged the validity of this action by General Johnson, continuing:

"We cannot believe that you would knowingly countenance a reckless disregard of repeated promises and assurances given to authorized representatives of the trade by the administrator personally within two weeks of the date on which he played a major role in their breach."

The code was consented to, says the memorandum, "on the express understanding" that the minimum price and other trade practice provisions "were absolutely necessary if members of the trade were to comply with other provisions of the code, including the limitations on maximum hours and minimum wages of labor." The suspension of the minimum price provision is pronounced "a deprivation of the primary benefit of the code to members of the trade, leaving them only the burdens."

The memorandum states that 97 per cent of the 11,000 plant owners and 175,000 to 200,000 retail shops are able and willing to comply with the price and other trade practice provisions if there is "reasonable co-operation on the part of the government in enforcing compliance on the other 3 per cent. There is virtually complete compliance in 132 of the 312 districts."

In conclusion the memorandum takes this wallop at Administrator Johnson:

"We are equally confident, however, that confidence in a program, no matter how meritorious, cannot long be maintained when its administration is intrusted to an agent who makes so little of the elementary requirements of good faith and who is oblivious to the hardship and suffering his conduct is causing to thousands of loyal and law abiding citizens of this country."

SECRETARY OF WAR DERN and President Roosevelt have received a unanimous report from a house investigating committee demanding that Maj. Gen. Benjamin D. Foulois be removed as chief of the army air corps "without delay." The report accused the general of "dishonesty," "gross misconduct," "inefficiency," "inaccuracy," "unreliability," "incompetency," and "mismanagement."

Gen. Foulois

After praising the "young men" who fly army planes under Foulois' direction, the report concluded:

"We find it necessary to report that we are most firmly convinced, from the evidence and records submitted, that before any substantial progress in the upbuilding of the morale and materiel of the army air corps can be attained, Maj. Gen. Benjamin D. Foulois must be relieved from his position as chief of the air corps."

PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT went up to New Haven, Conn., for the Yale commencement and was presented with the highest honor the university can bestow, the degree of doctor of laws. After the ceremony he attended a luncheon of alumni and took occasion to challenge the critics of his New Deal and especially those who make fun of the "brain trust."

"It is true," he told his hearers, and there was obvious in his voice a note of defiance, "that today, more than ever before in our public life, we are calling on the teaching profession for assistance in our government. There have been certain ribald comments and some laughter about the use of brains in the national government, but it seems to me a pretty good practice.

"It is a practice that will continue," he added firmly. And the professors around him started the vigorous applause which followed.

Later on he evoked further applause when he said: "I couldn't tell you the party affiliations of the majority of people holding responsible positions in Washington, and it is a mighty good thing I cannot."

That evening Mr. Roosevelt boarded the presidential yacht Sequoia and proceeded slowly to New London, Conn., to witness the boat races between Harvard and Yale. His son, Franklin, Jr., was one of the Harvard freshman crew. After the regatta the President motored to the family home at Hyde Park, N. Y., to remain over the week end.

ANOTHER divorce in the Roosevelt family is impending. Mrs. Anna Dall, the daughter of the President, has taken up residence in Nevada with the evident though not yet declared purpose of seeking legal separation from her husband, Curtis Dall, New York broker. The news was no surprise to friends of the family. The Dalls have not been living together for a year, Anna and their two children, "Sistie" and "Buzzie" residing in the White House.

Mrs. Anna Dall

For the six months she must remain in Nevada Mrs. Dall has selected a log cabin on the shores of Lake Tahoe, some fifteen miles from the house where her brother, Elliott, lived a year ago, when he and the former Elizabeth Donner of Philadelphia were divorced.

COLLUSIVE bids on city supplies and contracts are ended by the recognition, by the NRA administration, that NRA code regulations are unworkable in dealings with municipal and other governmental agencies. An executive order has been issued exempting contractors, manufacturers and merchants from the most important of the code restrictions in all transactions with federal, state or city or other subdivisions of government. It was published after thousands of cities had protested against increases in operating costs occasioned by the NRA.

CHANCELLOR HITLER has been receiving some hard knocks recently. Vice Chancellor Franz von Papen delivered himself of a vigorous criticism of the more radical experiments of the Nazi regime, and its "excesses and arrogance." Alluding to the pagan revival, Von Papen said: "Germans must not exclude themselves from the society of Christian nations." The speech, delivered at Marburg, was kept out of the German press but the German people read it in Swiss papers, and then learned that President Paul von Hindenburg had sent Von Papen a telegram of congratulation.

Count Nadolny.

Immediately after this incident Count Rudolf Nadolny announced his resignation as German ambassador to Russia. This was the first defection from Nazi government ranks since Dr. Alfred Hugenberg resigned as minister of agriculture and economics in June, 1933. Nadolny's resignation is attributed to his failure to persuade Chancellor Hitler to accept Russia's proposal for a non-aggression pact. The count is a close personal friend of President von Hindenburg.

Late dispatches from Berlin say Hitler has rejected Von Papen's offer to resign and has made a temporary truce with him. Both of them arranged to confer with the President at Neudeck, but not at the same time.

JAPAN was obviously pleased recently when the American fleet was moved from the Pacific to the Atlantic, but it will not be so glad to hear that the fleet is to return to the Pacific about November 1, when all its maneuvers have been completed. Presumably there will be an attempt, in passing through the Panama canal, to break the 47-hour record made in the spring.

Secretary Swanson says the navy's construction program will be pushed ahead with $40,000,000 obtained from the public works administration. Six new submarines and fourteen destroyers will use up most of this sum. About $5,500,000 will be spent on airplanes.

TERRORISTS in Cuba, who have been stirring up continual trouble for the Mendieta administration, precipitated bloody warfare in Havana by making an unprovoked atack on a parade of 35,000 members of the ABC, the island's largest secret political society. The radicals, ambushed in cross streets, opened fire with machine guns, pistols, sawed-off shotguns and rifles, mowing down scores of the marchers and many bystanders. About a dozen were killed outright. The ABC members fought valiantly with their revolvers and with clubs and stones. Later the fighting spread throughout the city, the students taking sides with the terrorists.

Col. Fulgencio Batista, chief of staff, declared martial law in Havana as soldiers, sailors, and marines struggled to stem the rioting.

Only a few hours before this furious battle, President Mendieta narrowly escaped death at the hands of the terrorists. A bomb was exploded behind his chair during a luncheon at a naval base across the bay from Havana, and he was badly wounded in the legs and arms and severely shocked. Two naval officers were killed and ten others were wounded by the blast.

LADY ASTOR, the American-born member of the British parliament, has done a lot of bright things and some stupid ones. In the latter category comes her action in Plymouth at a ceremony in memory of Sir Francis Drake. She grabbed from a midshipman of the American battleship Wyoming a wine-filled goblet and threw the wine into the river, saying: "I cannot understand why men will leave home for this beastly stuff."

BEGINNING July 1, the air mail postage rate will be six cents an ounce, flat. The old rate was eight cents the first ounce and 13 cents for each additional ounce. The reduction was announced by the Post Office department.

HENRIK SHIPSTEAD won renomination in Minnesota as the Farmer-Labor candidate for the United States senate. He will be opposed at the polls by Congressman Einar Hoidale, Democrat, and N. J. Holmberg, Republican. The Farmer-Laborites also renominate Gov. Floyd B. Olson.

WILLIAM LANGER, governor of North Dakota, and four of his associates, were convicted in federal court at Bismarck, of conspiracy to defraud the United States government, the case involving the alleged collection of campaign funds. They faced possible terms of two years in a penitentiary, a $10,000 fine or both. The governor is a candidate for re-election and suspended his campaign to fight for a new trial.

Celebrating First Birthday of NRA

General Johnson, with Marvin McIntyre, secretary to the President, and others at the party the administrator gave to celebrate the first birthday of NRA. The guests of honor were the 85 members of Johnson's original staff.

Project That Is Called a Federal Laboratory

General view of the Reedsville subsistence project near Elkins, W. Va., as it appeared when Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt journeyed there to greet the fifty pioneer families who will occupy the fifty new homesteads. The project was started but ten months ago and has been termed the "federal laboratory."

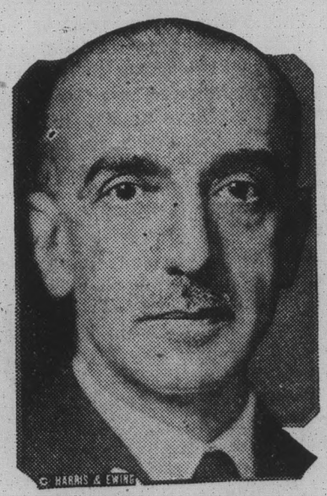
Here Is Miss Frontier 1934

Miss Lois Crane, born on a Wyoming ranch and who has spent most of her life in the open, was selected as the most typical western girl and will reign as Miss Frontier 1934 over the Frontier Days celebration in Cheyenne beginning on July 28.

COPPER GETS DEGREE

Among those receiving the degree of bachelor of arts at the commencement exercises of New York university was Herman Schwartzberg, a patrolman in the city police department since 1927.

SPAIN'S NEW ENVOY



This is the new ambassador from Spain to the United States, Senor Don Luis Calderon-Martin, who has assumed his post in Washington. He was accompanied by his wife and two children.

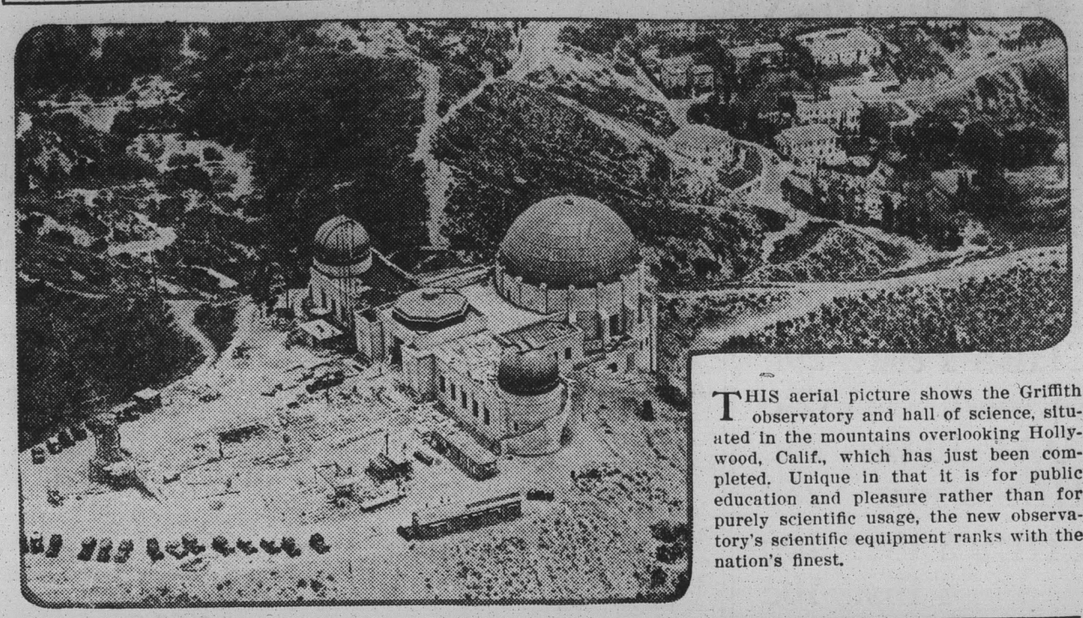
"Door of Unity" Unveiled at Plymouth

Bishop Daukes of Plymouth, England, unveiling and dedicating "the Door of Unity," a memorial to American naval officers who lost their lives in action against the British during the Revolutionary war. The ceremony took place at St. Andrew's church in Plymouth.

Stone Protection Developed

A protective coating for stone surfaces, particularly adapted for use where stone walls are subjected to the corroding effects of chemicals or to mechanical abrasion, have been developed from certain silicic acid esters. Tethaethyl silicate ester, dissolved in alcohol, to which has been added this desired pigment, may serve for this purpose. As the coating is applied, the silicic acid is set free, and a rapidly drying insoluble film results which is easy to clean and which possesses great resistance to chemical attack and to mechanical wear. By use of proper pigments it may be made to resist temperatures up to 1,200 degree Centigrade.—Scientific American.

Griffith Observatory, Near Hollywood, From the Air



THIS aerial picture shows the Griffith observatory and hall of science, situated in the mountains overlooking Hollywood, Calif., which has just been completed. Unique in that it is for public education and pleasure rather than for purely scientific usage, the new observatory's scientific equipment ranks with the nation's finest.

BEDTIME STORY FOR CHILDREN

By THORNTON W. BURGESS

PETER GETS ANOTHER SURPRISE

"DID you hear my cousin, Brownie the Thrasher, sing?" asked Jenny Wren of Peter Rabbit.

"Did I hear him sing?" replied Peter, his eyes shining at the memory. "He sang especially for me. He has a wonderful voice, has Brownie, and when he is singing he acts as if he enjoys it himself and knows what a good singer he is. I noticed that that long tail of his hung straight down, the same way Mr. Wren's does when he sings."

Peter Blinked and Stared, for He Was a Very Much Surprised Rabbit.

"Of course it did," retorted Jenny promptly. "That's a family trait. The tails of both my other big cousins do the same thing."

"What—wha—what's that? Have you got more big cousins?" cried Peter, staring up at Jenny Wren as if she were some strange person he had never seen before.

"Certainly," retorted Jenny. "Mocker the Mocking-bird and Kitty the Catbird belong to Thrasher's family, and that makes them second cousins to me."

Such a funny expression as there was on Peter's face! He felt that Jenny Wren was telling the truth, but it was surprising news to him, and so hard to believe that for a few minutes, he couldn't find his tongue to ask another question. Finally he ventured to ask very timidly, "Does Brownie imitate the songs of other birds the way Mocker and Kitty do?"

Jenny Wren shook her head very decidedly. "No," said she; "he's perfectly satisfied with his own song."

"He ought to be," declared Peter. "Anyone who can sing as he can should be quite contented."

Before another word could be said, the clear whistle of Glory the Cardinal sounded from a tree just a little way off. Instantly Peter forgot all about Jenny Wren's relatives and scampered over to that tree. You see, Glory is so beautiful that Peter never loses a chance to see him.

As Peter sat staring up into the tree trying to get a glimpse of Glory's red coat, the clear, sweet whistle sounded once more. It drew Peter's eyes to one of the upper branches, but instead of the beautiful brilliant coat of Glory the Cardinal, he saw a bird about the size of Welcome Robin, dressed in ashy gray with two white bars on his wings and white feathers on the outer edges of his tail. He was very trim and neat and his tail hung straight down after the manner of Brownie's when he was singing. It was a long tail, but not as long as Brownie's. Peter blinked and stared, for he was a very much surprised rabbit.

©, T. W. Burgess.—WNU Service.

Afternoon Tunic

This attractive tunic dress for afternoon is of powder blue silk linen. It buttons down the back and has a sheer navy blue scarf.

PAPA KNOWS—

"Pop, what are racketeers?"
"Kids next door."
©, Bell Syndicate.—WNU Service.

QUESTION BOX
By ED WYNN . . .
The Perfect Fool

Dear Mr. Wynn:

I have just written a song. The lyrics are very sad. They are about a young man telling how he made love to a young girl and of her promise to marry him, then on the day before the wedding she tells him she will not marry him because she found out he didn't have any money. Will you please give me a suitable title for my song?

Yours truly,
ART ISTICT.

Answer—The best title for your song (according to the above description) would be "She Looked Me Up in Bradstreet's, Now I'm Dun."

Dear Mr. Wynn:

Is it true that a Scotchman "loves HIS whisky?"

Sincerely,
JACK KNIFE.

Answer—It is true that he loves whisky, but not "his." He loves someone else's.

Dear Mr. Wynn:

I am a young lady 22 years of age and considered very pretty. I am keeping company with three young men about my own age. Is it all right for me to go with three different fellows?

Yours truly,
I. M. A. FLIRT.

Answer—It is not all right if the other two find it out.

Dear Mr. Wynn:

In the government income tax notice, mention is always made of "A Full Return." What do you think that means?

Sincerely,
D. LINQUENT.

Answer—To me "A Full Return" always means when a man comes back home drunk.

Dear Mr. Wynn:

I hear a great deal of talk about "Mermaids." I don't believe there are such things, do you? If so, maybe you are smart enough to tell me where they sleep?

Sincerely,
C. BEAST.

Answer—My dear child, "Mermaids" when they are little babies sleep in "the cradle of the deep," and when they grow up, "in the bed of the ocean."

Dear Mr. Wynn:

I have heard several authors of books referred to as "chemists." I know some authors have different degrees conferred on them, but never "chemist." Can you tell me what makes an author a "chemist?"

Truly yours,
I. REED ALOTT.

Answer—An author is called a "chemist" when his book becomes a drug on the market.

©, the Associated Newspapers
WNU Service.

Do YOU Know—

That before the general adoption of glass in windows, thin plates of horn were often used, as they still are in barbarous parts of Asia. Horn was also used for lanterns and book covers, hence the name horn-books.

© McClure Newspaper Syndicate
WNU Service

Mother's Cook Book

FOR WARM DAYS

ICED coffee prepared as usual, served with ice, sugar and cream, according to taste, makes a most refreshing drink for a warm day, served at luncheon. Here is a treasured recipe which it will be well to prepare and have ready for any emergency.

Lemon Sirup.

Grate the rind from one lemon, add the juice of six lemons with four cupfuls of sugar and two cupfuls of water. Boil together for ten minutes: cool and put into a bottle in the ice chest. When serving pour a tablespoonful or two of the sirup into a glass, add chipped ice with cold water and serve at once. This is so good and is always ready to serve at a moment's notice.

Lemon Soup.

Add the juice and grated peel of a lemon to four cupfuls of water, bring to a boil and thicken slightly with three teaspoonfuls of arrow root mixed with a little cold water. It is better to add the juice of the lemon without cooking, just as it is served.

Mint Sangaree.

Crush three sprigs of mint with a lump of sugar, drop into a glass half full of cracked ice. Add four tablespoonfuls of grape juice and fill the glass to the brim with charged water. Shake thoroughly and strain into another glass. Serve garnished with a sprig of mint.

Chicken a la Stanley.

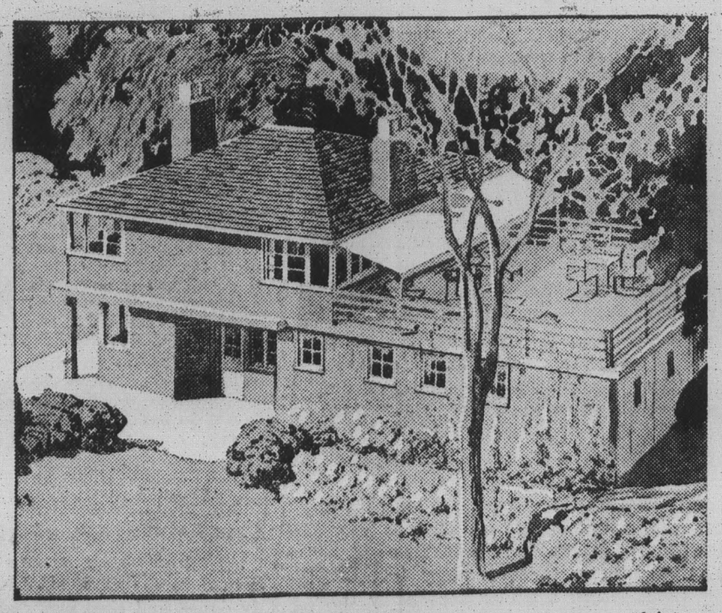
Melt one-fourth of a cupful of batter, add one large onion thinly sliced and two broilers cut into pieces for serving. Cover and cook slowly for ten minutes. Remove the chicken, rub the stock and onions through a sieve and add one and one-half tablespoonful each of butter and flour cooked together. Add cream to make the sauce of the right consistency, season well and serve poured over or around the chicken on a hot serving dish. Garnish with sauted bananas.

© by Western Newspaper Union.

"One thing about us women," says sensuous Sue, "we always know our next scent is coming from the corner drug store."

©, Bell Syndicate.—WNU Service.

Model Farm House of the Future



ILLUSTRATING the changes in American living conditions, this model farm house erected by The Country Home, a national farm magazine, attracts much attention at the World's Fair in Chicago. It is in a beautifully landscaped lot adjoining the dairy exhibits. New ideas are embodied in its construction, which is of brick, steel and concrete. The lower floor contains living room, kitchen, laundry, wash room, farm office, work shop and two-car garage. The upper floor has four bedrooms and bath, plus a "roof deck" over the entire garage. The brick used is reinforced with steel rods, precast in panels, and set in place much as the so-called fabricated houses are built. The house is fireproof and can be built for less than $5,000. As shown at the World's Fair, it is completely equipped with all modern improvements. The house has no cellar, its architects maintaining that a cellar is obsolete and expensive.

A ROOM IN A HOSPITAL

By ANNE CAMPBELL

SEEN in the morning light, the creamy walls
Are tinged with the faint luster of the dawn.
Outside my room, a rustle in the halls
Whispers another night has come and gone.

The rattle of the trays proclaims the hours,
As steadily the day moves into night. . . .
There may be visitors, new books, bright flowers
To touch the heart with exquisite delight.

There are good thoughts to share in spite of pain,
New friends to make, old friends to greet once more;
A slow advance toward health and strength again
To meet that strange old world outside my door.

But in the meantime, my affection holds
One world alone. . . . The sunlight speeds the gloom,
As I lie here, while all my love enfolds
My world . . . the narrow walls of one small room. . . .

Copyright.—WNU Service.

Good Taste Today

BY EMILY POST
Author of
"ETIQUETTE," "THE BLUE BOOK OF SOCIAL USAGE," ETC.

MAN AND GIRL

DEAR Mrs. Post: How far may a girl run after a man?

Answer: Catlike, she may do a little stalking! But "run?"—Not a step. The freedom of today allows her to go to meet him halfway, but the girl who runs, runs after a man who runs faster!

To be sure, she can invite him to any sort of party, so long as it is not just a sit-at-home party of two. She can say even to one who has been lately introduced to her: "Come and see me sometime! I'm almost always at home after five." Or, whenever she is likely to be at home.

She may also say to one she knows at all well: "I'll answer, if you write to me." She may also buy tickets, but not often, for an entertainment and telephone him, "I have two tickets for the game (or theater), would you like to go with me?"

It isn't so much what she does, as the way she does it. A girl who is apparently impersonal, who is "catlike" in disguising her intent, may pursue quite actually and with success, where one who bounds in pursuit, like a puppy that has slipped his collar, has lost the prize at the start. All of which is mere common sense.

* * * * * * * *

Dear Mrs. Post: Will you say something about the behavior of the young on the street who seem to live in chattering, giggling groups?

Answer: School girls, factory girls or any other young women who troop into the street together, should avoid walking abreast in interlocked giggling and chattering groups, which prevent other pedestrians from getting by, attract the attention of others, and invite the flirtation of any man who may stroll into view. If you must stand and talk on the sidewalk, at least leave a little room for people to pass, and don't shout or "roughhouse" or giggle. The place to "roughhouse" is a gymnasium. If you must shout, do it at a baseball game. And if you feel like giggling, say your multiplication table or take course in impulse control! But whatever you do—don't self consciously let your nerves get the best of good sense.

Spontaneous laughter is the most delicious, the most contagious sound in the world, but forced giggling is as annoying and as inexcusable as the continued flapping of a shutter.

AN EAR FOR PURITY OF SPEECH

DEAR Mrs. Post: Although I graduated from the University of X—with honors—and have excellent letters of personal recommendation from members of the faculty, I am unable to qualify for the position of instructor in an eastern college because of my voice and pronunciation. Both, I am told, are typical of the X section of our country, and seemingly displeasing to eastern prejudices. As a devoted reader of your column may I ask if you can possibly tell me what to do to acquire an attractive voice and pronunciation? I am intelligent, I think, and I am willing to go through any amount of intensive study if I only knew how to go about it.

Answer: The best advice I can give is to try to develop an acute ear for spoken sound. Every one knows what is meant by an ear for music, but very rarely does anyone emphasize the much greater importance of an ear for intonation, or the purity of the spoken vowel sounds. It seems to me that just as such naturalists and entomologists as William Hamilton Gibson and Henri Fabre have proved that not one pair of eyes in a million behold the romance and drama of insect life along every foot of country roadside, it is equally true that not one pair of ears in a million hear with precision the scale of spoken sound. And yet every little child in the world has this exquisite sensitiveness, which grows each year less acute. Of course, I don't know whether we are as uncaringly deaf (as we are uncaringly blind to the insect life of the hedgerows) or whether at the end of babyhood our ears fail to hear clearly, just as our eyes at the end of middle age fail to see clearly.

As I have said, I can't think of better advice to give you than to try to HEAR. If you can hear the difference between a thin flat tone and a full round one, between a voice that comes down to rest on the dominant note and one that hangs in the air; if you can hear the entire range of vowel sounds as clearly as a violinist hears musical notes, the chances are that your tongue will produce without effort what your ear exacts.

© by Emily Post.—WNU Service.

Sports for Women

The popular sports of women in England, France, Norway and Italy are: England—field hockey, tennis, net ball (American basketball), swimming, cricket, track, folk dancing and light gymnastics. France—tennis, cycling, hiking, volley ball, basketball, rhythmic exercises and light gymnastics. Norway—skating, skiing, folk dancing, hiking, swimming, canoeing, tennis. Germany—handball, track, baseball and camping. Italy—camping, hiking, bicycling, swimming, gymnastics, track and field, volley ball, basketball, tennis and folk dances.

JAPAN HONORS EDISON

A society has been organized in Japan to collect funds for a stone monument to Thomas Edison. It will be at Yawata, in Yamashiro province, whence Mr. Edison obtained his first supply of bamboo carbonization which made possible the filament for electric bulbs.

MURINE FOR YOUR EYES
A Few Drops Every Night and Morning Will Promote a Clean, Healthy Condition!
At All Drug Stores
Write Murine Co., Dpt. W, Chicago, for Free Book

DO YOU SUFFER FROM NEURITIS?
American and European Scientists Agree That Mineral Water Is Beneficial
TRY THIS NATURAL WAY

People spend hundreds of millions of dollars every year going to the great mineral water health resorts of Europe and America.

Many of these people have to travel thousands of miles. Many of them were suffering untold pain from "rheumatic" aches, from arthritis, from neuritis, from gout. Others suffered from certain stomach ailments or excess acid or sluggishness or a general rundown condition.

The scientific and medical records of Europe and America show that a very large percentage of these people gained blessed relief and help by these natural mineral water treatments.

Today, however, you do not have to travel long distances to partake of the healthful qualities of fine natural mineral water. You do not even have to pay the excessive cost of having it shipped to you in quart or gallon containers. For Crazy Water Crystals bring to your own home the precious minerals of one of the world's fine mineral waters in crystal form at a great saving in expense.

To Crazy Water Crystals absolutely nothing is added. All you do is add Crazy Water Crystals to your drinking water and you have a great mineral water which has benefited millions.

If you, or any of your friends, suffer from "rheumatic" aches or pains we suggest you investigate Crazy Water Crystals at once. Just ask any of the millions of people who have given them a full and fair trial and you will realize how beneficial they have been to so many sufferers.

The standard size box costs only $1.50 and makes enough mineral water for several weeks treatment. Crazy Water Co., Mineral Wells, Texas.

CRAZY Water Crystals
are for sale by dealers displaying the red and green Crazy Water Crystals sign. Get a box today.

HOTEL LAND
Sacramento
"Comfort without Extravagance"
Rates $1.50 to $3.00
GARAGE and COFFEE SHOP in Connection.
ROY G. MITCHELL, Manager

Granulated Eyelids, Sties, Inflamed Eyes relieved with one single application
ROMAN EYE BALSAM
50c a jar at druggists or Wrights Pill Co., 100 Gold St., N.Y. City.

LONG ESTABLISHED CORPORATION desires mailing secretaries in every locality. Experience unnecessary. Brings fine income. Full details 15c. EX-CEL-ALL CO., Dept. 2, Box 134, Salt Lake City, Utah.

Song Poems. Music Comp. Copyr't secured, picture studio arranger. D. J. MICHAUD, 870 W. MANCHESTER, Los Angeles, Calif.

PARKER'S HAIR BALSAM
Removes Dandruff—Stops Hair Falling
Imparts Color and Beauty to Gray and Faded Hair
60c and $1.00 at Druggists.
Hiscox Chem. Wks., Patchogue, N.Y.
FLORESTON SHAMPOO — Ideal for use in connection with Parker's Hair Balsam. Makes the hair soft and fluffy. 50 cents by mail or at druggists. Hiscox Chemical Works, Patchogue, N.Y.

ITCHING SKIN
Wherever it occurs on the body—however tender or sensitive the parts—quickly and safely relieved by Resinol

The Ocean Beach News

ISSUED EVERY FRIDAY AT
1922 BACON STREET, OCEAN BEACH, CALIFORNIA

SUBSCRIPTION.. RATES
One year, in advance $2.00 Six months, in advance $1.00

AN INDEPENDENT PAPER
Entered as second-class matter December 1, 1922, at the post office at Ocean Beach,San Diego,Cal.,under the Act of March 3, 1897.

H. H. HARTVIGSEN.....Editor and Publisher

Legalized as an Official San Diego City and County Newspaper
Promoting the Progress of the Beach Sections of San Diego and the Entire Point Loma Peninsula.

ADVERTISING RATES
CLASSIFIED ADS—Ten cents per line of eight point type for the first insertion and five cents per line each subsequent insertion.
LOCAL READERS—Fifteen cents a line for the first insertion and ten cents per line each subsequent insertion.
DISPLAY ADVERTISING—Rates upon application.
Ad copy should be in the office by Wednesday noon.
Classified, transient and political ads PAYABLE IN ADVANCE

PROFIT ESSENTIAL TO PROGRESS

There is that ever innate habit and practice of "swapping minutes for money" that is — selling one's time to his employer for profit. We are all of the same belief and agreement that to work without sufficient pay is a venture both unintersting and unwilling. There must be profit or else there is no desire to work Profit is essential to progress.

Competition has lead merchants and manufacturers to new profits to the minimum, thus the employe must give his time at a minimum wage. This condition of affairs got in its work over the country years back; and has been a big factor in bringing on the depression.

The New Deal, cognizant of this alarming situation, and many other petty ills, was put over to make a fair and equitable deal for all. While the New Deal has not proven a panacea for all the social miseries, it is still hard at it, trying to carry out the Administration's purpose. This will take some long and patient experimenting, for no one seems to speak with authority as to the best thing to do.

More money must be circulated, more jobs given capable, able-bodied men and a price standard fixed that will return a fair profit. Under all these industrial necessities there must come comfort, seeurity and plenty, or the plan will fail.

Assuming that the malady is not incurable, and that there is a remedy already within our reach, the Townsend Old Age Plan is proposed, with sweeping indorsement, not only in California but in more than thiry other states. The plan is so simple and apparently practical, that it is great wonder that it has been delayed so long.

* * * *

One of the outstanding achievements of today is the power of keeping fit for your tasks. You cannot be your best with a strong physique and a weak mentality, or vice versa. You must be equipped with an abundance of nerve and physical force to hold out in the race of life. Exercise, food and correct habits make for bodily fitness. Approximately $1,200,000,000 is spent for health annually in the United States. Much of this ailment comes thru personal neglect and ignorance. It is appalling how few people know the rules of health. In cases of indisposition, they are as helpless as a sick cat, and run to the physician for relief. When the doctor's prescription fails he then is taken to the hospital and his suffering is alleviated temporarily, but he goes forth again in ignorance. Of the above enormous sum spent for health the "medical dollar" is divided as follows: 35 percent to physicians, 28 percent to hospitals, 18 percent to dentists, and 12 percent to patent medicine manufacturers.

* * * *

California is always in the aggressive line of march. We refer to county consolidation; instead of 58 counties reduce them to five. There are some strange county situations that make the subject most interesting. For instance — Alpine county has a population of 241; the county seat, Markleville, being a metropolis of 54 persons. San Benito county has only 11,311. To saddle upon these tiny counties the expense of courts, a sheriff, a board of supervisors —court-houses, jail, etc., is a waste of money and a famine in efficiency. San Bernardino county is the largest county in the world with an area of 20,175 square miles in which you could lose several Eastern states. There is no doubt but that it would be a very economic venture; further than this, there is likely to be considerable argument both for and against, and the next legislature will have a chance to air itself on the subject.

* * * *

Of all vegetables that are condemned on the dining table it is the humble onion; yet it is not only a food, but a medicine as well. The old saying that onions are "grown to sell," is just another "slap" on his majesty. Talk to any doctor and he can tell you its virtues as a healer or a cure-all. The food-faddist is more concerned and earnest in his endorsement of the onion as a real body renevator. Years ago when most of us got our sustainance in life direct from the soil, "bread and butter and onions," was a household word. To this day a double layer of bread in one hand and a hunk of raw onion in the other, is a memory of many decades as vivid as yesterday. It was a good meal full of vitamine even if it made you weep!

* * * *

We are told that United States will have to dig down still deeper in the future, to meet her taxes, which according to prediction will be heavier than ever if obligations are to be met. This is not a very consolng tribute, but may be the naked truth. Now a dignified ambassador makes the following comment: "America is so stupendously and outrageously rich, that she could pay up almost any sum. America's capacity for yielding tax money is enormous. You may think you are having what seems to be a lot of trouble to you, but for a country to worry becasue it has too much food, does not know what trouble is."

* * * *

A systematic perusal of the daily newspaper is more than an American habit; it survives in supplying mental food and nourishment for tens of thousands. Not all the contents of the newspaper are wholesome education, altho the average mind feeds upon such cravings. What one chooses to read may be mental poison to another but the great American newspaper will always lead as the moulder of public opinion; you may select your course of study and pursue it with splendid results, using the newspaper as your textbook. A devoted newspaper reader should be an intelligent thinker.

* * * *

Much talk is being centered on the subject of dictatorship, but it is not an overwhelming success in the estimation of the majority.. Its place in government is looked upon as hostile to Democracy and perhaps this is true. We may have quite a few dangers lurking about in state and federal affairs, but it is a well established opinion that if the American people wish to save their democracy from repeated defeat and eventual destruction, they must veto the dictatorship of special interests!

MacMARR STORES AND SAFEWAY STORES
DISTRIBUTION WITHOUT WASTE

Cloverbloom BUTTER lb.	25c
Airway COFFEE 2 lbs.	37c
Fresh Large EGGS dozen	25c
Oregon CHEESE lb.	13c
Max-i-mum MILK 3 Tall Cans	17c
MAYONNAISE Best Foods qt.	28c
Del Monte PEACHES 2 cans	29c
Potato CHIPS lge. pkg.	12½c
Crystal White SOAP 10 bars	25c
Favorite MATCHES 6 boxes	23c
ELBERTA PEACHES 3 lbs.	10c
TOMATOES 4 lbs.	10c
LIMA BEANS 4 lbs.	10c
Young Hen Turkeys, lb.	22½c
Ground Beef, lb.	7½c
Boiling Beef, lb.	6c
Round & Swiss Steak, lb.	25c

Centuries of Progress

and Now the New EVERHOT CASSEROLE-COOKER
(Not a Pressure Cooker)

$1
At Time of Delivery
Small Balance on Convenient Budget Payments

Cook a whole meal at a time—roast, potatoes, vegetable, pudding—the meal cooks while you play, work, go to church—or you can watch it boil, bake or roast through the Pyrex glass cover.
TWO HEATS—PORTABLE—SAFE

Ask your Electric Dealer for a Demonstration.

San Diego Consolidated Gas & Electric Company
867 6th Avenue—Phone F-4121

NEW RULING IN REGARD AUTO TAX CLEARANCE

SACRAMENTO, July 5 —— In order to clarify the situation in regard to the California personal property tax law requirements on cars from other states, an important ruling defining the law's effect on the various classifications of non-resident vehicles has been issued.

Under the ruling personal property tax clearance certificates will not be required from the applicants for fee paid licenses in the cases of non-resident cars registered in their own state for 1934 which enter California before the first Monday in March, secure valid non-resident permits and make application for fee paid license after the first Monday in March. Also those non-resident cars entering California after the first Monday in March, if application is made for a fee paid license, will not be required to furnish tax clearance certificate.

Non-resident cars registered between January 1st and the first Monday in March which were subject to registration as of January 1st have been issued a personal property tax clearance certificate requiring subsequent validation.

Non-resident cars subject to California registration as of January 1st but which are not registered until after the first Monday in March will be required to provide a personal property tax clearance certificate.

Bevans points out that annually 110,000 out-of-state cars obtain non-resident permits in California and that 75,000 obtain fee paid licenses.

D. G. COWLES AT BAPTIST CHURCH

Rev. D. G. Cowles of the San Diego Baptist City Mission Society will be the speaker at the Baptist church Sunday morning and evening.

Rev. and Mrs. Dunn are on a motor trip up the coast to Monterey and Yosemite.

SIXTH CHURCH OF CHRIST, SCIENTIST

1929 Cable street, San Diego, Calif.

Services are held as follows:
Sunday morning at 11 o'clock.
Sunday school 9:30 a. m.
Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock.
Reading room is open Mondays, Thursdays and Saturdays from 2:30 to 4:30 p. m., except holidays.

REFORMED ATHEIST CONTINUES WORK

Those who failed to hear this fearless speaker at Elim tabernacle may yet have the opportunity for he has decided to continue his meetings every night except Saturday and Monday.

Subject Sunday night at 7:30, "Was Man Created or Evolved."

THE COLORADO STATE SOCIETY

The Colorado State society and the Illinois club will hold their monthly dance and card party at the chamber of commerce Saturday evening July 14th. Valuable door and card prizes will be awarded. All former Coloradoans and Illinoians are cordially invited.

Many Candidates Seeking Election

There will be contests for every public office in the county, except five justiceships in country township courts.

This became apparent June 23 when the county clerk's office closed at noon the deadline for filing nomination petitions for the primary election August 28.

Here is the list of Candidates:

State senator—William E. Harper (R), George B. Bowers (R), John J. Brennan (D), Wayne Compton (D), Ed Fletcher (R), Ebon B. McGregor (D), Stanley B. Hancock, (Commu-

Assembly, 78th district — Ralph Wallace (R), Alfred Stahel, jr. (R), Eleanor A. Weymiller (D).

Assembly, 79th district—Ed L. Head (R), Paul A. Richie (D), Lawrence C. Anderson (R), Donald Wolfer (R), Bruce R. Stannard (D), Bessie A. Keckler (Communist), filed but not certified.

Assembly, 80th district—Charles W. Stream (R), Y. A. Jacques (D), O. C. Ludwig (D), Mary E. Gemmell (R).

Congress, 20th California district—Louis Henry Francisco (D), Claude Chandler (D), Jay L. Kerley (D), George Burnham (R), incumbent; Stephen W. Wynns (D), Ed V. Izak (Prog) (R) (D), Richard N. Thompson (D).

Sheriff—Ernest W. Dort, John D. Cornell, Schuyler Kelly, James Patrick, Harry E. Webber, Richard Chadwick, Frank Jennings, Ed. F. Cooper, incumbent; Lawrence A. Abbott.

Supervisor, fifth district—Tom Hurley, incumbent; Arthur Sheppard, B. A. Sweet, George W. Schmidt, Milton V.Wisdom, Charles H. Marker, John H. L. Vogt, Al W. Bennett.

Supervisor, fourth district— S. P. McCullen, incumbent; Harvey D. Hicks.

County Superintendent of Schools —Ada York, incumbent; Harold W. B. Baker, Herman C. Bollman.

Assessor—C. Leon De Aryan, Leroy E. Goodbody, James Hervey Johnson, incumbent; Charles Cass, Donald MacArthur, J. Wilber Kyle.

Tax collector—Sam A. Claggett, incumbent; James M. Lee.

Recorder—Orpha Swope, incumment; Howard S. Jopling, Carl Heilbron, Basil dee Vaerlen.

District attorney—J. H. McKinney, Thomas Whelan, incumbent; Wilmer Breeden (filed but not certified).

Coroner—Chester D. Gunn, incumbent; Leroy Bailey, John J. Shea.

County clerk—J. B. McLees, incumbent; Arthur P. Sprague, John W. Dailey.

Treasurer—Will S. Heller, incumbent; John Zweck, George W. Norman.

Superior judge—Lloyd E. Griffin, incumbent; Joseph S. Campbell.

San Diego township justices of the peace—No. 1: Joe L. Shell, Herman Freese, E. N. Curtis, incumbent.

No. 2: Eugene Daney, jr., incumbent; John A. Hewicker.

No. 3: Carlyle O. Buckner, Philip Smith,incumbent; Frank B. Andrews, John H. Langston.

No. 4: Walter L. Kirby, Dean Sherry, incumbent; George A. Westover, Herman Allen.

Police judge, city of San Diego—Claude L. Chambers, incumbent; Henry W. Hache, Clarence S. Terry.

Outside justices—National City Lowell Howe; Fallbrook, Harry E. Gibbs; Jacumba, Marion D. Isom, C. C. Rowan, Samuel C. Smith; Oceanside, Arthur E. Harris, Lionel Van Deerlin, Fred A. Sickler, Harold K. French; Escondido, William N. Bradberry; Vista, Dale O. Peet; Borego, Joseph A. Kelsey; Ramona, James F. Kelly, Albert E. Mattack, W. A. Sowle; El Cajon, George Franklin Gray, William J. Collard, C. M. Walz; Encinitas, Ora Preston Cochran, William Sneath Daniels.

Member county central committees (incomplete).

Republican, first district — Joe Levikow, Ben A. Burnham, Adolph Muehleisen, R. W. Caldwell, Horace E. Elliott, Joseph W. Butler, Jay W. Stuart. Second District — Augusta Canning, Emery F. Bush, Laurence S. Chamberlain, William N. Drew, Ira F. Harbison, T. C. Macaulay, Milton P. Moeser, James R. Scott. Third district—Louis C. Maire. Fourth district —Thomas Coe Little, Alessandro Lauri, James V. Alexander, Ralph S. Roberts, Joseph M. Spinning. Fifth district—James E. Franks, Wallace A. Walters, Godfrey F. Poggi.

Democrat, first district—Edward J. Kelly, Camillo V. Bernardino, Clara Chandler, Gilmore Tillman, A. T. Procopio, Roland F. de Fere, Ray J. Baker, Vincent Whelan, J. Edward Armstrong, August Einhaus, Clarence J. Novotny, Maud R. Rush, E. M. Engelhorn, Laurence Tiernan. Second district—Nelson M. Fleming, Charles S. Patterson, Richard A. Higgs, Fred Jewell, Henry K. Presbry, Leona D. Daniels, Noel H. Cooper, Edward T. Lannon, Harry L. Garber, Delavan J. Dickson, Harold Heise Phelps, Charles W. Robbins, John F. Smillie. Third district—Robt. F. Driver, George W. Thompson, John Homer Barton, Richard M. Bowen, William P. Mahedy, George R. Baird, Douglas Young, Virgilio Bruschi, Russell D. Chambers, Edward F. Bryans, Tom Van Derslice. Fourth district—Harry L. Markley, Rinaldo Passarino, Walter E. Walsh, Mott H. Arnold, Ethel C. Lowrey, Robert L. Stone, Estelle Fahlenkamp, Albert H. Joy. Fifth district—Emanuel Osuna, Thomas F. McLoughlin, Laura E. Snell, Fayette W. Whitney, Robert V. Rust, Henry Claflin, Charles C. Crouch, Jacob Weinberger, Mrs. Lola B. Mock, George R. Rastall, George B. White.

The following candidates for the Governorship have filed:

Republican — Frank C. Merriam, C. C. Young, John R. Quinn and Raymond L. Haight.

Democratic—George Creel, Upton Sinclair, Justus S. Wardell, Dr. Z. T. Malaby, William H. Evans, Milton K. Young and Charles H. Spinks.

Haight, registered Commonwealth, reportedly has filed on the Progressive as well as the Republican and Commonwealth tickets.

For the Lieutenant-Governorship the filings are:

Republican—George Hatfield, Rex B. Goodcell, David J. Reese, Albert E. Sherman and Edward F. Treadwell.

Democratic — Martin I. Welch, Seth Millingan, A. C. Edington, Sheridan Downey and Thomas W. Cochran.

Mission Beach Personals

(Beth V. Paynter, correspondent)
(Tel. Pacific Beach 425 or 433)

Mr. and Mrs. Julian Wier and two daughters have been vacationing at 726 Pismo court.

* * * * * *

Mrs. J. Stephenson, with her daughter, and the latter's school friends, Miss Browning, are spending the week at 3803 Ocean front.

* * * * * *

Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Nicholson of El Paso were among week end visitors to Mission Beach.

* * * * * *

Mrs. William England has returned from Lake Arrowhead where she spent several weeks.

* * * * * *

Mrs. M. Alice Huffman of Douglas, Arizona, is at 805 Ormond court, where she will be glad to see her friends.

* * * * * *

Curtice Robertson, who has been ill so long, is mending slowly, though still confined to his bed.

* * * * * *

Mr. and Mrs. C. F. McAnaly of Ormond court, are entertaining their daughter, Mrs. William Blakenbeker, and children of Los Angeles, who will stay a month or longer.

* * * * * *

Mrs. Emma Phinney, of Los Angeles, has been visiting for several weeks, Mrs. A. G. Edwards, in her Bay front home.

* * * * * *

Mr. and Mrs. P. McLaughlin, of San Diego, are at 814 Jersey court for a month's vacation.

* * * * * *

Mrs. B. E. Bing has just returned from a week's visit in Los Angeles, and vicinity.

* * * * * *

The Mission Beach Woman's club motored out to the residence of Mrs. M. A. Grassberger, near Encanto, where they spent the day happily picnicing.

* * * * * *

Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Gould of Lemon Grove, have reserved a cottage on Verona court for July 20.

* * * * * *

Mr. and Mrs. V. F. Jay are at 826 Salem court for a month or more.

* * * * * *

Miss Amy Lewis and friends of Salt Lake City, are at 3922 Mission Boulevard for a month or more.

* * * * * *

Fred A. Marsh returned Monday to his home, 751 Yarmouth court, from Scripps Memorial hospital where he underwent a major operation. Although still confined to his bed, he is improving rapidly.

* * * * * *

Missourians and Hoosiers are invited to the picnic to be held Sunday July 15 in the Pepper grove of Balboa park. Each one who attends will provide his own basket luncheon, cup and table service. Coffee will be provided by the societies. Luncheon will be spread at 1 o'clock. After luncheon a program of games and entertainment has been arranged by the committee. Tourists and visitors are also cordially invited to attend.

J. B. McLEES, COUNTY CLERK STANDS ON CLEAR RECORD

The following announcement of candidacy for re-election has been issued by J. B. McLees, county clerk:

"Duties of the county clerk's office require, primarily, an intimate knowledge of law because of the scope and responsibility of duties involved. The importance of such knowledge is aptly set forth by members of the San Diego Bar association:

"The office of county clerk is one of the most important departments in the administrative functions of the county, for the reason that a person to properly qualify must of necessty be trained in legal procedure of the state, to intelligently handle the many and varied duties of the office. J. B. McLees is an attorney, as are others in his department, which accounts in part, for the efficiency and smooth running of the office.

"It always has been my earnest endeavor to serve the public efficiently, courteously and promptly, and the same principles have guided every member of the trained personnel under my supervision.

"That this office has been exceptionally successful in maintaining these ideals of public service is attested not only by public approval of my administrations, but by the commendation of auditors and grand juries. It also is of record—and something in which I and my assistants take justifiable pride—that there never has been the slightest criticism voiced of my administrations.

"Mindful of the perplexities confronting all citizens, costs of operating this office have kept at a minimum, without impairing efficiency and service.

"It is upon the record which this office has achieved, and the training, experience and qualifications which have made that record possible, that I seek re-election as county clerk."

JUDGE LLOYD E. GRIFFIN SEEKS REELECTION

Judge Lloyd E. Griffin has announced his candidacy for re-election to the superior court in the following statement:

"Citizens are entitled to have placed before them, clearly and concisely, the record of an incumbent seeking further to serve them. In aspiring to re-election as judge of the superior court, I deem it a privilege to submit the following summary of my judicial record, training and experience:

"Groundwork of my legal career was laid with my appointment as deputy district attorney of San Diego county, which assignment, covering several years, required prosecution of cases in justice and superior courts. This was followed by appointment as justice of the peace to succeed Judge Jennings when he was elected to the superior court.

"The people then honored me with election as justice, in which capacity I served more than six years. In 1928 I was elected to the superior court.

"Six years' service as superior judge brought not only calls to sit in the courts of Los Angeles, Orange and Imperial counties, but wide experience in the trial of many different classes of cases. In this period I presided at the trial of 531 contested cases, some of which consumed several weeks of trial, in addition to numerous hearings on probate, insane and default matters, criminal probation hearings, naturalization of those desiring to become American citizens, and on occasion was selected to sit as presiding judge of the superior courts.

"Records of the district court of appeals show that of these 531 contested cases tried, 59 were appealed, of which number only two were reversed.

"Included in these six busy years was assignment to sit in the district court of appeals two months. It devolved upon me to write many important opinions, none of which were reversed by the supreme court.

"My constant endeavor has been to be fair and impartial in the hundreds of cases that have come before me, and steadfastly to uphold the dignity and integrity of the courts.

"It is upon the foregoing, and the practical training and experience resulting therefrom, that I submit to the people my candidacy for re-election."

FAITH LUTHERAN SUNDAY SCHOOL

Sunday school will be held at the Ocean Beach woman's club. It will begin promptly at 9 o'clock.

Miss McAlpine, Mrs. Duggan and Miss Shumway are taking charge of the Sunday school classes, under the supervision of Rev. Dreith.

All children are cordially invited to attend.

Patronize The News Advertisers.

AMERICAN LEGION

Unit No. 433

At the meeting of the post held Thursday, July 5, the following new officers were elected:

Ralph G. Chadwick, commander; J. P. Gilmer, 1st vice commander; Hugh Reynalds, 2nd vice commander; Jay K. Bates, chaplain; P. C. Jensen, Sgt. at arms; J. H. Vaterlaus, historian; L. E. Ruggles and C. J. Schumacher, executive committee. G. A. Sharpe was appointed adjutant.

A social hour and refreshments were much enjoyed by all.

AMERICAN LEGION AUXILIARY NOTES

The annual meeting of the American Legion auxiliary was held in the Legion hall, last Friday evening, July 6. Two new members, transfers from San Diego units were welcomed, Mrs. Ethel Johnson and Mrs. Mary Roberts. The results of the election of officers is as follows:

President, Mrs. Pearl Wood; first vice president, Mrs. Elizabeth Finley; second vice president, Mrs. Edith Steele; secretary, Mrs. Maude Schumacher; chaplain, Mrs. Marion Sharpe; historian, Mrs. Olive Watts; Sgt. at arms, Florence Reynalds; members of the executive committee, Mrs. Naomi Dick, Mrs. Anna Forsythe and Mrs. Helen Parks.

The next meeting will be Thursday July 19. This is social night and the last initiation until after the convention. The inititation will be held in Wallace hall. After the inititation the installation of new officers will take place. These ceremonies will be in charge of Mrs. Louise Waibel past district president and her initiatory team from Oceanside unit. All members and friends are cordially invited to be present.

Patronize The News Advertisers.

Silver Gate Dairy
NORTH SAN DIEGO
P. O. Box 25 Hilcrest 1731
Delivered to your Door Twice Daily
Grade A Raw Milk
Grade A Pasteurized Milk
Table Cream
Whipping Cream
Churned or Cultured Buttermilk
Cottage Cheese

Experienced Officer Solves Car Barn Robbery---Jails "Iron Duke"

This is the second of a series of stories telling for the first time the inside details of some of San Diego's most notorious crimes as related by the officer who investigated and solved them. This man, Richard W. Chadwick, is now a candidate for the office of sheriff of this county.

In the archives of the identification bureau there is an envelope marked simply (B-7908). Inside this envelope are the reports of the case and the photographs of three men and a woman. Appended to the last report is the notation "closed"; but between the first report and this cryptic notation lies the following story of skilled detective ability effectively applied.

About 2:15 a. m. April 3, 1928 the cashier and other employees of the Adams avenue car barns were suddenly confronted by three armed and masked men who with coolness and dexterity proceeded to whisk up all the cash on hand together with some thousands of street car tokens and roar away into the darkness in an automobile. The phone wires to the office had been cut and some time was lost in arousing a neighbor from whose house the report was finally made to police. Officers dispatched to the scene and the meager descriptions obtained were sent to all available officers; but it soon was evident that the bandits had disappeared as completely as though swallowed up by the night. On the morning of the eighth day following the robbery Chadwick received a tip that the manager of a downtown hotel had something "hot." A call upon this man elicited the information that one of his guests had found some car tokens on the roof. Following this lead, Chadwick and the manager discovered literally thousands of these tokens secreted in the drain-gutter around the roof. A questioning of the clerk on duty the night of the robbery brought out the information that one of the women guests had entered about two thirty that morning with a man carrying a box, which the clerk jokingly had said to the pair "must be whiskey" and had received the reply "yes, we'll send you down a bottle," but never had done so. The man had left the hotel about 6 a. m., and shortly thereafter the woman had checked out. The clerk remembered that her trunk had been hauled by a certain local transfer company and a search of their records and questioning of their drivers revealed that orders from the woman had also sent them to 12 and B streets to an apartment house for a man's trunk. Chadwick went to this apartment and from the porter learned the owner of the trunk. A call at the depot revealed that the two trunks in question had been shipped to Los Angeles and there Chadwick went the following day. From the depot in Los Angeles the two trunks had been sent to a storage house and from there the man's had been delivered to an apartment house, the woman's remaining in storage. Chadwick went to this apartment where the trunk had been delivered and found that his man was out, but from the landlady he learned of a gambling house where he might be found. In company with two Los Angeles officers he went there and was able to observe the suspect described. Not wishing to spoil his case by making the arrest at that time Chadwick and the others waited until he had departed and then learned that he was closely associating with a man whom the Los Angeles officers knew from description to be the "Iron Duke". This notorious criminal was at the time out on bail awaiting trial on a charge of diamond robbery and attempting to defraud an insurance company. For two days they searched for this man and finally by a ruse contacted him by phone and in a hurried swoop took him into custody. On the way to the police car the "Duke" dropped a crumpled card in the gutter, unobserved as he thought. Chadwick saw it but let it lay at the time, but a short time later retrieved it when the suspect could not see him. The name and address contained thereon were quickly checked and found to be of no immediate value, but it was retained for future investigation. Leaving the "Iron Duke" safely in jail the officers went to the address of the first suspect again and finding him at home took him into custody; surprising him as he was neatly arranging many of the dollar bills taken in the car barn robbery, into stacks of a hundred dollars each. Satisfied that they now had two of the participants in the robbery Chadwick determined to complete his case before the others could learn of it and make their get-away. He decided to "follow the woman" and going to the storage house he obtained from the woman's trunk a picture evidently that of the owner from the autograph thereon and other written documents in the trunk. With this picture he returned to the address on the crumpled card dropped by the "Duke" and showing this picture to the landlady he quickly learned that the lady and her husband were now upstairs. With the Los Angeles officers ascending the stairs to the door of the apartment, Chadwick went up to the roof and coming down the fire escape to the window of the apartment he prepared to make his entrance simultaneously with theirs; they knocked at the door, Chadwick stepped through the window with drawn gun just as the male occupant of the room rushed for a suitcase containing a loaded revolver. A curt command! A curse! The raising of two pair of hands and the last of the participants in the notorious car barn robbery were in the hands of the law.

Returned to San Deigo for trial the "Iron Duke" staged one of the most remarkable and amazing acts of his long criminal career. For three weeks before the trial he feigned insanity; muttering, mumbling and quivering from head to foot, he convinced his attorney and three prominent alienists that he was hopelessly and helplessly insane. Determination on the part of the district attorney to proceed with the trial was unshaken and when arraigned in court and faced with the prospect of serving a life sentence under the habitual criminal act, the "Iron Duke" suddenly lost his maddness and in a dramatic and eloquent plea astounded all who heard him. But to no avail for the majesty of the law had at last won out and the "Iron Duke," William O. Schaeffer, after a verdict of guilty was sent to the penitentiary for life. The other two men and the woman received long sentences for their part in the crime.

Next week Mr. Chadwick will relate the story of the murder of the kindly old chinese merchant Sia Wah.

ORPHEUM NOW FEATURING SNOOKY THE HUMANZIE

Fun and frolic will be featured on both the stage and screen of the Orpheum theatre, starting with the matinee this afternoon.

Topping the program of stage entertainment will be "Snooky" the "Humanzie". "Snooky" is a living example of the Darwinian theory of evolution, according to his press notices. Included also on the stage presentation will be Moro and Yaconelli, international comedy team, Arena and Rathburn, in a musical fun number, Georgene and Henry in "Exclusive Dance Novelties", two other high class acts and specialty numbers by Ted Mack and his band.

The screen will feature reproduction of the famous novel "City Limits" by Jack Woodford. In the other half of the screen fare, John Halliday, Wallace Ford, Kitty Kelly and Marguerite de la Motte are among the group of featured players starring in "Woman's Man" from the story by the former Liberty magazine movie critic. Adela Rogers St. John. A news reel and cartoon will round out this lengthy program of entertainment.

For the program scheduled for Sunday the management has booked two of the leading features of the last few months with Majestic Pictures, "Stolen Sweets"; and the "Crime of Helen Stanley" from Columbia Pictures. In the second production, Ralph Bellamy and Shirley Grey are featured. Ted Mack and his band with a program of six acts of vaudeville are included.

270 MORE YOUNG MEN MAY JOIN CCC CAMP

San Diego County is recognized by the Emergency Relief Administration to be within the drought area. The CCC program has been extended to include an additional number of 270, over and above the regular quota. Boys 18 to 25 who have dependents and who have not been previously enrolled, may apply for registration at 509 Spreckels Theatre Building.

Bottle Beer On Ice
16 oz. Bottles, 2 for 25c
11 oz. Bottles, 10c
FABER'S
PHONES: BAYVIEW 0217 and 0415.
Groceries, Meats, Fruits & Vegetables

FLETCHER ACCEPTS PLACE ON TICKET STATE SENATOR

Col. Fletcher has allowed the use of his name as a candidate for State Senator after being urged many times.

He left for Washington on private business week before last and while there a committee was organized in San Diego County, 20 petitions were circulated, signed by hundreds of people and a telegram was sent to him in Washington urging that he allow himself to be drafted. His reply was:

"I have no desire for public office. I will allow the use of my name as a public duty only under the following conditions. I will not ask a person to vote for me or put up any money to secure the nomination. If elected I will serve although it will be at a personal sacrifice."

The Fletcher campaign committee of 40 of the most prominent men in the city and county present to the voters a brief history of a self made man, a man of ability who has lived here for 48 years.

Col. Fletcher's first 15 years in San Diego was in the wholesale fruit, produce, and grocery business. First as an employee and later as a successful employer. The last 25 years he has been identified with the development of water and land, particularly with the construction of Henshaw, Hodges, San Dieguito and Murray dams. He was part owner and for 19 years manager of the Cuyamaca Water company which was sold in 1926 to the La Mesa Irrigation District.

Col. Fletcher received a vote of thanks from the city council for his service and was influential both in Washington and San Diego in making the construction of El Capitan dam possible.

Recently he was a vital factor in securing the refinancing of the La Mesa district by the RFC and PWA.

The Fletcher family control a number of properties in the county and the Colonel conceived the early development of Del Mar, Solana Beach, Rancho Santa Fe, Grossmont, and Mt. Helix subdivisions.

He has been a civic worker for many years. Was for two years campaign manager of the Community Chest, also as chairman successfully put over the campaign for the $300,000 bond issue recently for the unemployed.

A lover of things beautiful he was chairman of the committee who 10 years ago raised the funds to rehabilitate the park buildings and did his part a year ago in raising the necessary funds to continue the work which makes our exposition next year possible.

He was on the San Diego Highway Commission which built our concrete highways in the county. There was not a word of criticism of this work, instead a vote of thanks from the board of supervisors was given the commission, Messrs. F. M. White, Sherwood Wheaton and Ed Fletcher, when the job was completed.

In the city plaza opposite the Grant hotel stands a marble monument and bronze tablet in the Colonel's honor for his national highway work benefitting San Diego and California.

He has given liberally of his time and money in all civic enterprises.

Col. Fletcher was an active member of the State Board of Forestry of California for many years and secured the donation of several redwood forests along the highway without charge to the state.

The Colonel and Mrs. Fletcher are the parents of seven boys and three girls who are a credit to this community.

If elected, Col. Fletcher has assured the committee that he will put the same zeal in the state's business that he puts into his own.

The committee urge a unanimous vote for one of our most respected citizens and one who has done more for the development of the back country than any living man.

Fletcher Campaign Committee
By Wallace A. Walter.

CLAUDE CHANDLER WILL SUPPORT ROOSEVELT

Standing squarely, as he always has, on a platform pledging full support to President Roosevelt, Claude Chandler has formally announced his candidacy for Congress from this district on the Democratic ticket. Chandler states that he is in accord with the President's policies and in general, with the Administration measures enacted by the present Congress. He believe that the good features of the National Recovery Act. including the abolishment of child labor and sweat shop, should be permanently preserved. In a "Declaration of Principles" Chandler says that he favors: A shorter work week and higher wages. Expansion of the Presidents unemployment program and repatriation of Fillipino and other alien laborers, ineligible to American citizenship, now holding jobs needed by our people. Federal Old Age Pension and unemployment insurance laws. Collective bargaining in labor disputes. A square deal for all war veterans. Municipal ownership of power and light plants. Power development by the states and nation. Completion of the All American canal and use of power developed thereon by the city and county of San Diego if economically sound. Federal farm loans and credits for Imperial Valley on a par with other sections. Freedom of speech and press.

Regulation of radio advertising to prevent quacks and crooks from defrauding the public. High taxes on unearned incomes with reasonable exemptions on earned incomes. Deduction of hospital and medical expense from income tax returns. Extension of civil service merit system to include all Government appointive personel. Chandler says the President's Naval expansion program is for proper National defense and that San Diego will benefit directly therefrom through enlargement of the local Naval Base. Chandler was the Democratic nominee for Congress in 1932 receiving, according to official returns, 43,304 votes, only 452 less than his opponent which, he says, is the largest vote ever given a Democrat in this district with the exception of President Roosevelt. Chandler was born in Kansas, is 48 years of age and during his 14 years residence in San Diego has been engaged in the real estate business and operating ranches in San Diego and Imperial counties. He is a veteran of the World War, serving as a Navigating officer in the Naval overseas transport service until disabled in line of duty when he was placed upon the Naval retired list. He also served in the Navy from 1902 to 1907.

He resides at 4407 Georgia street with his wife and five children.

WARREN - WALKER SCHOOL

Last Friday the students of the Warren-Walker school enjoyed a nature walk along the rocks and cliffs of Ocean Beach. It was low tide and many interesting forms of sea-life were found. One of the students discovered a rare, salmon-pink, sea anemone which measured about eight inches in diameter.

Some of the students, who do not have their homes here during the year, have never before seen the many fascinating sights that can be found on the sea coast.

Robert Gross and Louise Fernstrom of Pacific Beach and Pat Jones of Ocean Beach were enrolled in school last week. Ross and Peter Turano, who enrolled three weeks before the end of the regular year, have finished their summer school work and have left with their parents to visit their grandmother in the fall for the beginning of the new term.

Subscribe for The News.

OUTLAWS of EDEN

By

PETER B. KYNE

WNU Service.

Copyright, by Peter B. Kyne.

SYNOPSIS

At the close of the Mexican war, Robin Kershaw, with his bride, rode in northeastern California. Here he found an ideal valley for cattle raising. They christened it Eden Valley. Below Eden Valley is a less valuable tract which Kershaw's wife names Forlorn Valley. Joel Hensley settles in the lower half of the valley. There is bad blood over fences and water for irrigation. Kershaw kills Hensley and the blood-feud is on. By 1917, Rance Kershaw, his son Owen, and daughter Lorry are all that remains of one clan. Nate Tichenor is the sole survivor on the Hensley side. He goes to help Lorry in her car and finds her father has died of heart disease. Silas Babson, banker, schemes to control the irrigation and hydro-electric possibilities of Eden Valley. Nate tells Lorry he and Owen Kershaw, Lorry's brother, met in France just before Owen was killed. They became buddies, and Nate promised that if he survived Owen he would look after Lorry as a brother might do. Babson, determined to secure Lorry's lake-site and Nate's dam-site, makes legal application for the allocation of flood waters to the Forlorn Valley irrigation district, which he organizes. With money advanced by Nate, Lorry clears up her indebtedness to Babson.

CHAPTER VII—Continued

—8—

"Why do you have to go away, Nate?"

"Got a couple of deals on and I can't handle them from here."

"If you're coming back in the fall," she suggested, "you should have the Bar H place put in order. It's fallen into decay; it smells neglected. It isn't a nice place for you to live, even with capable servants to care for you."

"I had thought of that. Indeed, it's one of the reasons I have to leave Eden Valley. Got to engage an architect to draw plans for a new house, new barns, four-car garage, kennels, and such. Got to engage a smart gardener to put in a nice lawn around the new house and plant flowers. Got to grade a new graveled road from the main Eden Valley highway to the ranch house and plant a border of trees. And I wish you'd sort of superintend the job while I'm away. And when the house is finished I'd be obliged to you if you'd run down to San Francisco and buy the furnishings for it."

"Oh, I'll be so glad to. Nate, you're giving me an interest in life. A woman's interest. I'm kept pretty busy operating the Circle K, but it isn't my job and—"

She sighed ecstatically. So he was coming back, after all. He needed her and he hadn't scrupled to tell her so.

That night, when he departed for the Bar H, the girl walked with him to the gate. A full moon rode the sky above them, and Eden Valley was filled with the silvery light. It was a night for love, and Nate Tichenor, who had never felt his heart beat high in any woman's presence, was suddenly thrilled to the core of his being at sight of Lorry Kershaw leaning over the gate. He had a sudden mad impulse to place his hand under her adorable chin, tilt her face upward and kiss her on the lips.

For the strangest of all reasons he refrained. He had been reared in Eden Valley; he was old-fashioned, the victim of an iron code of morals and social procedure. Her father hadn't been dead long enough! So he compromised and said, with an effort paternally patronizing: "Good night, Lorry dear. I've had a delightful evening."

But his burning eyes betrayed him. The girl smiled up at him wistfully. "Thanks to you, I'm happy for the first time since Owen went away," she said.

At his gate he stood for a little while, gazing over the hills toward Forlorn Valley. "Coyotes!" he growled. "Not one of you, except Doc Donaldson, would come to her father's funeral—and Doc couldn't. And not one of you came to my mother's funeral, either. She was an angel and Rance wasn't less than a man, if he did pump Uncle Taylor off . . . Well, one day you'll come asking me for a favor, and when you do, by gad, I'll remember and charge accordingly. Coyotes!"

Silas Babson rose next morning, sans headache, and with a very definite realization that he had many busy days before him. He drove over to Gold Run first, to interrogate the county recorder, from whom he ascertained that a deed to a quarter-section in Eden Valley from Nate Tichenor to the Mountain Valley Power company and another deed for four thousand acres, from Lorraine Kershaw to the same company, had just been sent over by the First National bank to be recorded.

Well, he had been thwarted by this interloping power comporation, just as he had feared would be the case. Well, no matter. The Mountain Valley Power company could not thwart him in his plan to secure from the Department of the Interior permission to erect a diversion dam in the Handle and dig a canal from Eden Valley creek down beyond the western buttress of Forlorn Valley. They might have influence, but not with the congressman and senator whose constituency included Forlorn Valley.

Well, his first step was to create public interest in the proposed irrigation district—not at all a difficult task, since the Valley Center Register was the only newspaper in the valley and its editor, Joe Brainerd, had financed his venture largely on money borrowed from the Bank of Valley Center. Brainerd would see his duty and do it nobly. He must attack the power company and pay the community's respects, in no uncertain terms to those two Eden Valley outlaws who had betrayed them or at least sought to betray them.

Suddenly, as he drove home across Forlorn Valley, a thought occurred to him with such force that he jammed on his brakes and stopped in the middle of the highway so suddenly that a car coming behind him, smote his car in the rear and skidded it off the right of way into a ditch. Babson emerged from the wreckage unharmed, but frightened and exceedingly angry, just in time to come face to face with a young man emerging from a limousine driven by a liveried chauffeur.

"What's the matter with you?" he cried furiously. "Can't you stay on your own side of the road?"

"I'll answer your question with another, sir. Why did you stop so suddenly, without giving the legal warning by thrusting your hand out? My chauffeur is not a mind-reader."

"You've wrecked my car, d—n you, and you'll pay for it."

"I'm not wishful to argue that point." The young man's tones were crisp and unafraid. "I got out solely to see what damage has been done to my car. Very little, I observe. Bumper thrust back on the frame and twisted a little, that's all." Then to the chauffeur: "We'll stop in at a garage in Valley Center and have it repaired. Lucky you had most of the speed off the car or we'd have knocked this peculiar person over into that alfalfa field."

"This peculiar person wants your name and your license number," Babson shrilled.

"I'll give you my card, sir; help yourself to the license number. You

"I'll Remember and Charge Accordingly—Coyotes!"

will furnish me with your name and address, of course."

"My name is Babson, and I'm a responsible and reputable citizen."

"Ah, Mr. Silas Babson. I didn't recognize you. My name is Nathan Tichenor and I, too, am a responsible but, alas, disreputable citizen—at least in these parts."

"I beg your pardon, Nate. I didn't know who you were."

"Your excuse is a sound one and your apology is accepted. Sorry we couldn't avoid hitting you, Mr. Babson. However, since we've set you afoot some six miles from Valley Center we'll not desert you. Hop in and I'll take you home. You will have to send a wrecking car back for that mess."

"Thanks." Babson stepped in. "Well, well," he began unctuously, "you've changed, Nate. I should never have recognized you. Back in Eden Valley to stay?

"Perhaps. How are things with you, Mr. Babson?"

"Fair, fair! Forlorn Valley, like the rest of the country, is recuperating gradually. The bank's had to carry this doggoned valley since the post-war depression struck us."

"Well," Nate soothed, "you'll soon begin to get your loans in. Beef's coming up. The cattlemen have certainly taken a bad licking, but those who have held their breeding stock intact will make a clean-up within three years. I was saying as much to Lorry Kershaw recently. Old Rance's estate is in a bad way and Miss Kershaw was feeling a bit downhearted."

"Well, she's light-hearted today." Babson was pleased that his host had opened this subject of conversation and little dreamed that Tichenor had purposely done so. "She's sold four thousand acres of worthless land her father gave her to the Mountain Valley Power company. Must have got at least three hundred thousand dollars for it. Cleaned up the mortgage and paid old Rance's notes." He glanced slyly at Tichenor. "Unless you close in on her I reckon she'll work out of the hole she's in."

"I think so, too. No sense crowding her, in that event. She's a capable girl and will make good if given a chance. So I'm going to give her that chance."

"By the way, I hear you've sold your dam site to the Mountain Valley Power company," said Babson.

"Yes, they made me an offer—a see any profit in rejecting it. . . . mighty fine offer, in fact, and I couldn't News reaches you very promptly," he added.

"A new company, I believe. Know anything about this outfit—who's back of it and why?"

"It is a Delaware corporation capitalized for two million dollars with a license to do business in California. The corporation plans to erect a dam, impound the flood waters of Eden Valley creek after they have passed over the Circle K and the Bar H ranches and use the water for the production of power."

Babson now remembered the dazzling thought that had operated to wreck his automobile. "You may have noticed the large number of gasoline-driven pumping plants, Nate."

"I did, and guessed the reason. The water tables are receding and the lift is increasing; hence more power is required to pump. I hear the power company's rates are pretty high, so I suppose the farmers are trying out a cheaper method of pumping, although since gasoline is not cheaper than electricity, I surmise the gasoline farmers must have had their power cut off because they didn't or couldn't pay their bills to the power company."

"You've gone straight to the milk in the coconut, Nate. I wonder if it wouldn't be a good idea for the farmers of Forlorn Valley to organize an irrigation district and make a contract with the Mountain Valley Power company to sell it water for surface irrigation?"

"A good idea for the farmers but a bad idea for the company. Of course in years of unusually heavy freshet it might be glad to divert its excess water to Forlorn Valley, but in subnormal years, such as we have been experiencing the past three winters, the demands of Forlorn Valley might lower the water in the reservoir to a point below the power company's ditch and operate to close down its power plant."

"You seem pretty sure of your premise, Nate. How do you know that?"

Tichenor smiled a prescient little smile. "Because I'm the president of the Mountain Valley Power company. In fact I'm the entire company."

For the remainder of the trip into Valley Center, Babson was glum and silent to such a degree that Nate Tichenor noticed his preoccupation, saw that Babson's hands were trembling. "For some reason or other," Tichenor decided "that was a direct hit. I'll have to figure this out."

On his part Babson was thinking confusedly. "As yet the Mountain Valley Power company exists on paper only. It has its charter from the state of Delaware, its permit to do business in California, a dummy board of directors and the lands it has recently acquired. If this wretch I am riding with should die suddenly, the Mountain Valley Power company might die with him—"

"Do you mean to tell me, Nate, that you are alone in this power enterprise?"

"I own all of the issued capital stock of the Mountain Valley Power company, and I intend to keep it. It'll be valuable."

"Guess it will, Nate." And again Babson's wild thoughts took possession of him. "This fellow is liable to ruin me. He's no mean enemy. He may have more money than we have. He'll fight as the power company and he'll fight us privately as a riparian owner. But if he should die, who are his heirs? He's the last of his line, so far as I know. His executors would not be liable to carry through his plans for the Mountain Valley Power company. . . . The scheme would die with him—and we might be able to buy the company with all its assets. He'll have to do some tall financing just the same. . . . His executor might not be capable of the financing—damnation, what am I thinking of? But he may ruin me. . . . We've got to have that water . . . got to have it. . . ."

The phrase beat like a hammer in his brain.

CHAPTER VIII

Nate Tichenor's action in admitting to Silas Babson that he was the sole owner of the Mountain Valley Power company had not been predicated on a desire to shock the banker.

Tichenor was merely in a position where he could not afford to promise Babson to enter into negotiations to sell Forlorn Valley water for irrigation. Before deciding to acquire Lorry Kershaw's lake site and proceed to the vast expense of building his dam and power station he had found it necessary to make certain of a market for the power he purposed generating, for the Mountain Valley Power company was not in position to enter the field in competition with the P. G. & E., the company that already controlled the market in northern California, with a dozen large plants scattered through the mountains. In order to consolidate his position, therefore, he had already had the Mountain Valley Power company enter into negotiations for a contract with the P. G. & E., whereby that company was to purchase all the power Tichenor's company could deliver. While this contract did not restrain his company from selling water for irrigation, and Tichenor had hoped to sell water for that purpose, he dared not consider the proposition until quite certain he could do so without threat to his production of power. Instinctively cautious, he declined to commit himself even to a half-way promise to Babson.

He had discerned that his refusal to enter into negotiations had shocked Babson, but he had no idea as to the extent of the shock.

Other than the knowledge that Babson had organized a raid to ruin Lorry Kershaw, Tichenor had no cause to dislike the man, indeed, the knowledge that he, Tichenor, had always been in position to frustrate that raid, had operated to dull the edge of his resentment. He knew the world was quite filled with Silas Babsons; indeed, during his busy years in New York he had met more than one of them, had crossed financial swords with them, had defeated them and been defeated by them. Such men were all in the day's work for him, and such irritation as he had felt against Babson was solely out of sympathy for Lorry Kershaw.

If the impending disaster appeared to affect Babson only, he would have dismissed all thought of him. Certainly he would not have wasted any sympathy on him. But, without water, eventually hundreds of people in Forlorn Valley would be reduced to poverty. And with the collapse of the Bank of Valley Center, the absolute ruin of the valley would be hastened and completed.

Nate Tichenor, ostracized as he had been by the people of Forlorn Valley in his boyhood—ostracized as all of his people had been—had, not unnaturally, acquired a fierce resentment against these people who looked to him for succor. But his resentment faded now before the realization of the tragedy they faced.

His heart welled with pity for them. "I'll have to do something about this," he decided. "I'll defer signing the contract the P. G. & E.'s counsel is preparing; I'll defer building the hydro-electric plant until after I've experimented with the water. Perhaps I'll not build the power plant. I'll show those Forlorn Valley cattle that the despised Hensley clan managed to breed a human being and a public-spirited citizen after all."

TO BE CONTINUED.

Only Few Stone Age Men Lived in Caves, According to Analysis of Numerous Sites

Stone age man was not necessarily a cave man, says the Providence Journal. Doubt is cast on the prevalent conception that all our hairy, club-wielding grandsires and great-uncles had "walk-ups" in caverns, by Dr. Ales Hrdlicka of the United States National museum, who has made an analysis of 360 sites in Europe and Asia where human remains or stone implements of Old Stone age data have been discovered.

The earliest evidence of human activity, Doctor Hrdlicka finds, were found predominantly in open sites, away from caves. As time went on and the climate grew colder with the coming of the last great advance of ice glaciers, man took more and more to the caves, finally emerging into the open again, this time as a house builder, with the coming of the New Stone age.

Thus, during the remotest and crudest of human culture periods, the Chellean of approximately 200,000 years ago, the presence of man is evidenced only by crude stone artifacts, and out of 94 places where these have been found only two are caves. Then comes the Acheulian, dating approximately from 150,000 to 100,000 B. C. Only 10 out of 46 identified sites are in caves.

With the coming of the Neanderthaler during the next state of pre-history—the Mousterian—the practice of cave-dwelling became considerably more widespread, but man still clung to the open. Sixty-six per cent of the known Mousterian sites which have been investigated are caves.

From that point on there is a steady increase in the number of cave or rock shelter sites, until during the Azilian and Tardenoisian eras, about 10,000 years ago and just at the edge of the Old Stone age, man seems to have been chiefly a cave dweller. Only 10 per cent of the sites found belonging to these periods are in the open.

That Body of Yours

By

JAMES W. BARTON, M. D

The "New" Diet System

YOU are hearing something of a "new" system of diet whereby you do not eat meat when you eat potatoes, or you do not eat bread when you eat meat.

The reason seriously advocated by those who use this diet is that your digestive apparatus should not be asked to do too much work at one time; thus if it is digesting starch it shouldn't be required to digest proteid also.

As a matter of fact there is nothing "new" about this system; every doctor has heard or read about it for a great many years but there never was a time when it was so much discussed or used.

You may remember how the 18 day diet swept over the country leaving many invalids and causing many deaths. It would appear that this fad is also interesting a great many people, but fortunately it is not likely to cause any serious trouble.

While it must be admitted that the enzymes or ferments in the digestive juices which break up or digest foods, act differently from one another in that one acts on starches, another on proteids, and another on fats, nevertheless as they all flow together at the sight and smell of food there is always enough of them to digest a "mixed" meal.

Will this system of not eating meat or eggs with bread or potatoes help certain individuals?

Dr. Ruth F. Wadsworth, in Collier's, says that while this new system is unnecessary for the average well individual, nevertheless anyone following it really gets a good all-round "mixed" diet. "If you won't eat starches with your meal you can't eat meat alone so you add vegetables, fresh fruits and salads. And if you can't eat meat and eggs with the other two meals you are bound by variety to have stewed or raw fruits with your cereals and more salads and vegetables. Consequently you are getting more variety, more vitamins, more bulk than you ever thought you had time for before."

Now there are a number of young people who have difficulty in digesting starches, and some older people who have difficulty in digesting fats. It is in these cases that this method of taking food might be helpful.

For the vast majority of people this method is not necessary or even advisable as it gets the "mind" too much on the food, and upsets the usual household arrangements.

However it makes sure of a good all-round diet and can't hurt you if you want to try it. In fact, it may really help you.

* * *

Hay Fever Sufferers

IT IS a mystery to many that one member of a family will be attacked regularly by hay fever and the rest of the family, living in the same household, breathing the same air, never have an attack.

You will admit that this is definite proof that there is something about this hay fever sufferer, something about the general condition of his body, or part or parts of his body, that gives him this tendency towards attacks of hay fever.

Dr. M. J. Gutman, Munich, states that the fact that pollen from plants put into the nose of normal persons is removed from the body unchanged, whereas in a hay fever patient sensitive to this particular type of pollen, the pollen is changed, some of it having burst, shows that the mucous lining of the nose, or the mucous (the liquid on the lining of the nose) differs from that of a normal person.

As you know the hay fever patient suffers with an inflammation of the eyes, nose, throat and bronchial tubes.

It is unfortunate that so many school teachers are afflicted with it, as it not only tires them but makes them very irritable. In addition to the symptoms in eyes, nose, throat and chest, in a number of cases there are skin eruptions such as hives (urticaria, intestinal distress and nervous symptoms.

Manufacturers of dust proof and noise proof windows are now quite widely advertising the use of these windows in relieving hay fever symptoms.

Naturally for a sleeping room, equipped with one of these devices, doors and key hole would have to be plugged, but certainly the patient should get relief during the hours of sleep, which might enable him to be fairly comfortable the rest of the time.

The treatment of hay fever continues the same, that is injections of serum, beginning two to three months before the usual attack occurs.

While this has definitely helped a great number, it has not helped others, and so other measures are found necessary—going away to a district where there is little or no pollen in the air, living in chambers or rooms a number of hours a day the air of which is kept free of pollen.

For a great number of sufferers the use of the various remedies containing adrenalin gives considerable relief.

(Copyright.)—WNU Service.

SIMPLE FROCK THAT ACCENTS SMARTNESS

PATTERN 9969

A simple frock is just a simple frock unless it is cleverly cut—and then it becomes one of the smartest things a woman can wear in summer. But choose your design with the greatest care—remember it will have no help from frills or furbelows. To be dead certain of getting something chic, you cannot do better than this model with its smart and becoming neck and its well fitting panels. It is, by the way, a wonderful style for slimming the figure. Use cotton or linen for chic results.

Complete, diagrammed sew chart included.

Pattern 9969 may be ordered only in sizes 12, 14, 16, 18, 20, 30, 34, 36, 30 and 40. Size 16 requires 3⅝ yards 36 inch fabric.

Send FIFTEEN CENTS in coins or stamps (coins preferred) for the pattern. Be sure to write plainly your NAME, ADDRESS, the STYLE NUMBER AND SIZE.

Send your order to Sewing Circle Pattern Department, 232 West Eighteenth Street, New York City.

Smiles

THE REAL REASON

The tired-looking man sat facing the solicitor. "So you want a divorce from your wife," said the latter. "Aren't your relations pleasant?"

"Mine are," came the answer, "but hers are simply terrible."—London Answers.

Thin Disguise

Teacher (answering phone)—You say John Jones has a bad cold and can't come to school? Who is this speaking?

Voice (high pitched)—This is my father.

A Suggestion

Kathryn—Oh, dear! It's so hard for me to find a fit in any kind of shoes.

Kitty—Ever try snowshoes?—Brooklyn Eagle.

Not Yet Ripe

Guide—The green garden snakes around here are not harmful.

Old Lady—Aren't they as dangerous as the ripe ones?

QUALITY GUM

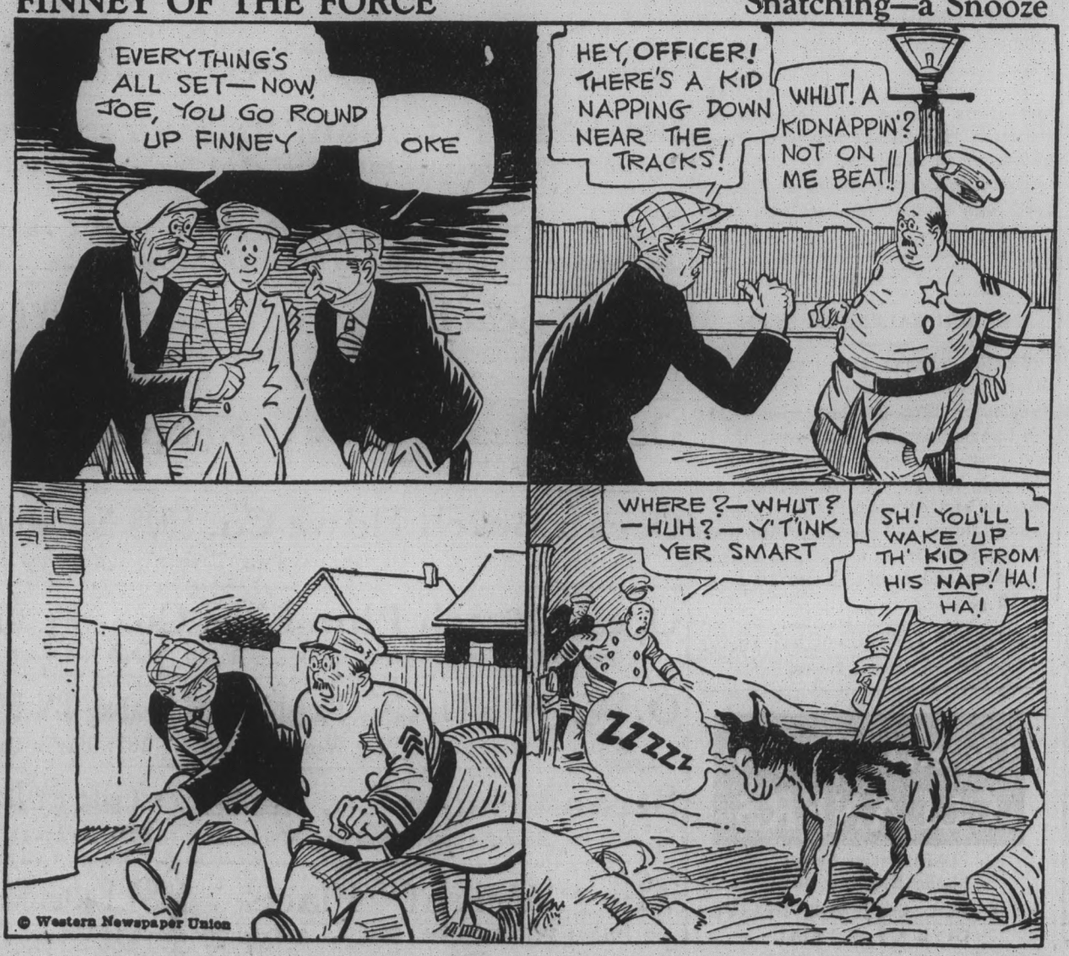
OUR COMIC SECTION

Events in the Lives of Little Men

THE FEATHERHEADS — One Error

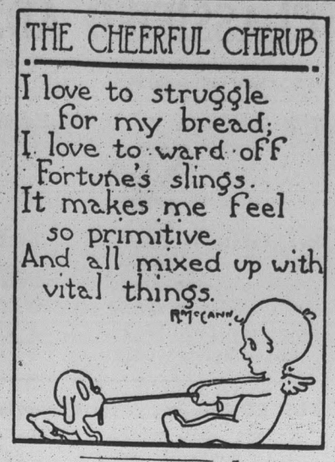
HECK!! THE PHONE WOULD RING WHEN I'M HERE AND NO ONE ELSE IN THE HOUSE
BRR
BRR
HELLO!—OH! HELLO, FANNY
FELIX! IS THAT YOU?
WELL—WHAT DO YOU THINK OF THAT!! SORRY DEAR—WRONG NUMBER—GOODBYE!!
LATER
SAY! WHAT WAS THE IDEA—
NOW—DON'T GET EXCITED! I MEANT TO CALL THE MARKET AND CALLED OUR NUMBER—
© Western Newspaper Union

FINNEY OF THE FORCE — Snatching—a Snooze



EVERYTHING'S ALL SET—NOW JOE, YOU GO ROUND UP FINNEY
OKE
HEY, OFFICER! THERE'S A KID NAPPING DOWN NEAR THE TRACKS!
WHUT! A KIDNAPPIN'? NOT ON ME BEAT!
WHERE?—WHUT?—HUH?—Y'TINK YER SMART
SH! YOU'LL WAKE UP TH' KID FROM HIS NAP! HA! HA!
Zzzz
© Western Newspaper Union

THE CHEERFUL CHERUB



I love to struggle for my bread;
I love to ward off Fortune's slings.
It makes me feel so primitive
And all mixed up with vital things.

OH, POETRY

"This summer resort reminds me of Sunday morning."

"So quiet?"

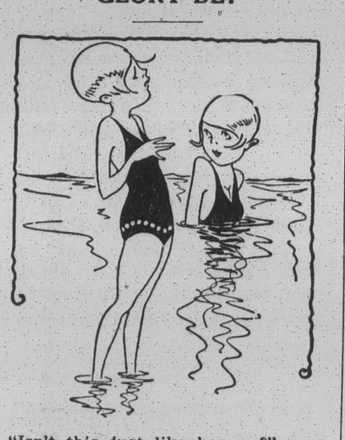
"Not that. The belles are peeling, don't you know, and the arm of the sea is curled around the sandy waste."

AND THERE YOU ARE

"Half the people are lying about enjoying their vacations in the country."

"And the other half are lying about how they enjoy the summer in town."

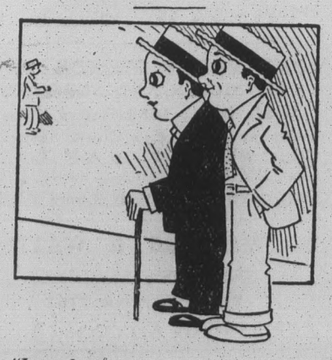
GLORY BE!



"Isn't this just like heaven?"

"Yes, the proportion of men here and in heaven, I imagine, will be just about the same."

FROZEN ASSETS



"I understand he married a cool million."

"Yes, but he's complaining now because he hasn't been able to thaw any of it out."

JUST SO

"Do you suffer much from the heat in summer?"

"Well, considerably more so than at other times."

Splendor of Yosemite Almost Beyond Words

Yosemite valley, magnificent as it is, should not be the only spot visited in Yosemite park. The park itself is as big as Rhode Island and every foot of it is thrilling.

The Grand canyon of the Tuolumne rising to Hetch-Hetchy valley is as awesome in its own way. Here the river roars down, exploding in a series of cascades and rapids, and every once in a while it hits a granite rock and shoots up in great waterwheels—circles of water rising 40 or 50 feet in the air. One can easily give credence here to tales of water demons and river sprites.

Here, too, is the great Wawona tree with the road cut through it, which has been reproduced on thousands of post cards. This road, incidentally, was cut before this became a national park. The government conservation authorities permit no such fooling with their treasures now.

From the high Sierras, Yosemite rambles down through all the timber varieties to the warm luxuriance of Mariposa grove. Everyone has seen pictures of sequoias but no one can realize them until he stands at the foot or one and nearly falls over backward trying to see the top.

Where other giant trees end the sequoia begins to send out its first feathery foliage, and then it really starts climbing. The Mariposa grove includes the huge Grizzly giant, which is about 3,000 years old, but there are vast trees all around it.

Mercolized Wax

Keeps Skin Young

Absorb blemishes and discolorations using Mercolized Wax daily as directed. Invisible particles of aged skin are freed and all defects such as blackheads, tan, freckles and large pores disappear. Skin is then beautifully clear, velvety and so soft—face looks years younger. Mercolized Wax brings out your hidden beauty. At all leading druggists.

Powdered Saxolite

Reduces wrinkles and other age-signs. Simply dissolve one ounce Saxolite in half-pint witch hazel and use daily as face lotion.

WNU—12 26—34

When in Pasadena stop at

GREEN HOTEL

Famous for Comfort

CENTRALLY LOCATED at corner of Green and Raymond Streets

Points of travel and nterest are generally more accessible from Hotel Green, particularly by auto, than from the metropolitan city of Los Angeles which Pasadena adjoins. Distance is often shorter and traffic congestions are obviated.

Minimum Rates

SINGLE— $1.50 DOUBLE— $2.50 Bath Detached

$2.50 $3.50 Private Bath

Salt Lake City Water

The water system of Salt Lake City, Utah, dates from 1870, and is considered one of the best in the world. The source is now on the Wasatch Range, near the city, which forms streams. There are several reservoirs in canyons on the Salt Lake side of this range.

Leaning Tower of Pisa

The Campanile, or bell tower, better known as the Leaning Tower of Pisa, was finished in 1350 by Tommaso Pisano. With the six galleries of pillars, this building has a total height of 179 feet, and a deviation from the perpendicular of 14 feet.

Island Without Water

One of the world's most thickly populated small islands, Malta domiciles more than 230,000 people. Strangely, it is an island without lake or stream. The soil and porous sandstone absorbs the rainfall like blotting paper.

The Adirondack Mountains

The Adirondack mountains themselves cover an area of more than 12,000 square miles, with extensive forest areas, including pine, spruce and hardwoods; numerous exquisite lakes, and hunting grounds.

The Whirling Dervishes

The Dancing Dervishes, one of the two main classes of Mohammedan mendicant fakirs of North Africa and Asia, have been known to whirl like tops for more than 1,000 revolutions without stopping.

Queen Victoria's Reign

Queen Victoria reigned 63 years 7 months and 2 days. She lived 81 years 8 months 28 days, while George III fell short of this length of life by 3 days.

What's Ahead?

"A beaten path is easiest trod," said Hi Ho, the sage of Chinatown, "yet progress has depended largely on our perpetual human curiosity as to what may lie in the jungle."

Maybe a Ticket

"When you tell yoh troubles to a policeman," said Uncle Eben, "it all depends on de policeman whether you eases yoh mind or simply gits mo' trouble."

Nutria Species of Beaver

Nutria is a species of swamp beaver from South America, resembling a cross between a large rat and a porcupine, and highly valued for its fur.

Area of Large Cities

St. Louis is one of the smallest cities in area in the United States. Chicago has 201 square miles; New York, 308; St. Louis, 61.

When Elephants Snooze

Elephants sometimes lie down to sleep, although, like horses and some other large quadrupeds, they can sleep standing up.

Relic of True Iron Age

A dagger from the tomb of Tut Ankh Amen is probably the oldest iron weapon from the true Iron age.

Skeeters Like Ice Water

It has been found that mosquitoes thrive on icy waters.

Japanese Day and Night

The Japanese until recently, like the ancient Greeks, preferred to have their day start at sunrise and end at sunset and the night begin at sunset and end at sunrise. But they wanted also to have a given number of "hours" in each day and night which they set at six for each.

Caves Used for Mushrooms

The famous Chislehurst caves in Kent comprise 22 miles of underground passages, etc. They are 90 feet deep, and could accommodate 80,000 persons. Most of the caves are used for the cultivation of mushrooms.—London Mail.

Revivals of Old

The modern revival may be said to date from the middle of the Eighteenth century. The revival of 1740-42 was called the Great Awakening, but after that period, the term, revival, came into use.

Men Must Pay and Pay

An Eskimo husband whose wife is childless at the end of the first year of their marriage is usually abandoned by her entirely. In fact, his disgrace is so great that he invariably leaves the village.

Cabbage Eaten by Ancients

Early civilizations used cabbage. Egyptians considered it of great importance. Hippocrates ascribed medical properties to it. Cato and Pythagoras mention it in their writings.

Hawaiian Islands' Mountains

The two highest volcanic mountains in the Hawaiian islands are Mauna Kea, 13,823 feet, which is quiescent; and Mauna Lea, 13,765 feet, which is active.

Prayer Disfavored

All manner of prayer is frowned upon by the Druses of Syria. They regard it as an irreverent attempt to interfere in the plans of the Creator.

Must Be Spieler

"A man whose opinions are for sale," said Hi Ho, the sage of Chinatown, "must talk much and loud in his effort to peddle them."

Proclaims Mother's Day

The President of the United States has the right to proclaim the second Sunday in May each year as Mother's day.

Some Reason, of Course

When a man says he is tired of the world it is probably because the world has gotten tired of him.

Eighth Century Glass Cups

Glass cups were found in an Eighth century Viking grave excavated in Sweden.

First Settlement in Missouri

The first permanent settlement in Missouri was established at Ste. Genevieve in 1735.

Playing Safe Game

In some districts in China taxes have been collected for 100 years in advance.

Air and Electricity

Normally the air is a poor conductor of electricity.

LOCAL AND PERSONAL EVENTS

The Dort-for-sheriff club of Ocean Beach will hold a meeting, Wednesday evening, July 18 at 8 p. m. at the woman's club house.

—‡-‡—

Mr. and Mrs. Page, 2263 Sunset Cliffs Blvd., have returned to their home in Texas after a pleasant month's vacation in Ocean Beach.

—‡-‡—

Point Loma Masonic lodge will confer a third degree on Thursday evening, July 19. All Master Masons are cordially invited to this meeting.

—‡-‡—

The American Legion and its auxiliary will give a dance and card party at the Ocean Beach Woman's clubhouse tonight (Friday). Everyone cordially invited to attend .

—‡-‡—

Mrs. Anna Graisey of Tacoma. Wash., arrived last Saturday to spend a week visiting her brother, J. W. Brennan, and family of Camp Comfort on Narragensett avenue.

—‡-‡—

The Ocean Beach Theosophical club meets every Thursday at 7:30 p. m. at the civic center on Abbott street. The "Ocean of Theosophy" by W. Q. Judge is being read and discussed. All are welcome.

—‡-‡—

Mr. and Mrs. Vincent Claypool and two sons of Perris, California, spent Saturday and Sunday last at the Geo. B. Kenline home. Mr. Claypool enjoyed a day barge fishing while the family took in the San Diego zoo.

—‡-‡—

Mrs. J. W. Freeborn, 1929 Bacon street, left Monday for Washington, D. C., where she will visit with her parents for a few months, expecting to return here in October to join her husband who is now with a Navy contingent on a cruise in Alaskan waters.

—‡-‡—

Messrs. John McAlpine, J. W. Dick, Carl Schroder, Albert Dumont, Rudolph Nagel, Frank B. McElwee, C. O. Thomas, D. H. Parker and several other Ocean Beach citizens attended last Monday's session of the city council loooking after our interests in regard to a fishing pier.

—‡-‡—

Miss Louis Margaret Walters, better known to her many friends at Pat Walters, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. Clyde Walters, was married Tuesday to David H. Baker of West Palm Beach, Fla. The ceremony was performed by Dr. Frank Linder at the First Methodist church.

—‡-‡—

A Syncrotax mass meeting attended by about fifty taxpayers was held Tuesday evening at the Woman's clubhouse. J. Frank Knoche was the main speaker with Jean Rittenhouse sponsoring the meeting. Miss Rittenhouse says Syncrotax may not be the way out of our tax dilemma but believes we must find relief and is willing, as are many others, to give the system a trial.

—‡-‡—

Twelve members of Ocean Beach Kiwanis went to La Jolla last Friday and attended a most lively meeting of that club. Close to 100 men were present and heard a talk and short travelogue on Mexico by Col. Ed Fletcher. Moving pictures taken by Fletcher were also shown, giving the audience a quick mental picture of the wondrous beauty of snowclad mountains that attain a height of 20,000 feet, large and deep rivers with highly colored banks and chasms and valleys that run out into ideal bays and beaches, with tropical climate and vegetation.

Mrs. J. A. Gilbert left Monday for a visit with a sister at Kalamazoo, Michigan, also her old home in Chicago.

—‡-‡—

Jim Morrison, teller of Ocean Beach Bank of America, went to Los Angeles last Friday on business in connection with the bank.

—‡-‡—

George Hartwig recently purchased a vacant lot on Long Branch avenue near Ebers and has moved a nice shingle sided house on the same property.

—‡-‡—

Mr. and Mrs. James Hughes arrived in Ocean Beach Friday of last week to make their home. Rev. Hughes is the new minister at Point Loma Methodist church.

—‡-‡—

The ladies of the Sacred Heart church of Ocean Beach and Mission Beach will give a old time tacky dance at the Ocean Beach Woman's club Saturday evening, July 14. A good time assured all those who attend.

—‡-‡—

Jim and Frank Claspill left Tuesday morning accompanying their grandmother, Adah R. Claspill, on an auto trip east that is taking them by way of Las Vegas, Salt Lake City, Denver, and on to Chicago, where they will visit the World's Fair.

—‡-‡—

Miss Kate Watkins, 4722 Bermuda avenue, passed away Friday, July 6th. She was aged 79. Funeral services were held Tuesday at Bonham Bros. chapel, Rev. John Osborn, officiating. Miss Watkins was a member of Ocean Beach Woman's club.

—‡-‡—

An Imperial Valley woman vacationing in Ocean Beach feels lucky to be here where the cool ocean breezes keep the temperature 70 to 85 degrees. In a telephone conversation with her husband Wednesday evening she learned the thermometer in the valley that day had reached 124 and the day previous 122.

—‡-‡—

Point Loma Chapter will meet in regular session July 16th. There will be a short form meeting preceeded by a pot luck luncheon at 6:30 p. m. for Eastern Stars and their families, after which Job's Daughters will exemplify their work. The honored guests of the evening will be the past matrons and past patrons of Point Loma chapter. All Eastern Stars cordially invited.

—‡-‡—

O. W. Afflerbaugh came over from El Centro Saturday to spend the week end with Mrs. Afflerbaugh and their son Max, who are spending the summer here at 5022½ Niagara avenue. Another son, William, wife and little daughter also came down from Southgate Saturday, returning home Monday evening. They all greatly enjoyed fishing while here.

—‡-‡—

Donald Ingham, wife and daughters Eleanor and Priscilla, came over from Yuma Saturday. They have taken the McAlpine cottage in the rear of the post office for the next two months. They are regular Ocean Beach summer visitors and have many friends here. Mr. Ingham returned to Yuma Sunday evening. He reports business conditions as improving there.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCHES

"Blessing, and glory, and wisdom, and thanksgiving, and honour, and power, and might, be unto our God for ever and ever." These words from Revelation are the Golden Text in the Lesson-Sermon on "God" on Sunday in all branches of The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Mass.

The Lesson-Sermon cites these verses from the Psalms: "Many, O Lord my God, are thy wonderful works which thou hast done, and thy thoughts which are to us-ward: they cannot be reckoned up in order unto thee: if I would declare and speak of them, they are more than can be numbered. . . . I delight to do thy will, O my God: yea, thy law is within my heart." "Teach me to do thy will; for thou art my God: thy spirit is good; lead me into the land of uprightness."

Correlative passages from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy, state: "Will, as a quality of so-called mortal mind, is a wrong-doer; hence it should not be confounded with the term as applied to Mind or to one of God's qualities." "The scientific unity which exists between God and man must be wrought out in life-practice, and God's will must be universally done."

GRUBER'S
Strand Theatre
OCEAN BEACH, CALIF.

Two Major Features
SHOW STARTS AT 7 P. M.
SATURDAY MATINEE AT 2 P. M.

FRI & SAT JULY 13-14
STRICTLY DYNAMITE
with James Durante, Lupe Velez, Four Mills Bros.
FORBIDDEN TRAIL
with Buck Jones, 60 minutes of action and speed
7th chapter Wolf Dog, cartoon and news weekly.

SUN MON TUE JULY 15-16-17
20th CENTURY
with John Barrymore, Carole Lombard, Roscoe Karns.
THE WITCHING HOUR
with Sir Guy Standing, Judith Allen Tom Brown.
News weekly and cartoon.

WED & THUR JULY 18-19
DOUBLE DOOR
with Evelyn Venable, Mary Morris, Kent Taylor.
THE KID FROM SPAIN
with Eddie Cantor. A return date at popular request.
News weekly and vagabond.

CLASSIFIED ADS

Advertisements under this heading 10c per line for first insertion and 5c per line for each succeeding insertion.

THE MAY COMPANY
NRA MEMBER U.S. WE DO OUR PART
Real Estate — Insurance — Rentals

Ask Coleman about his individual auto policy at $22.05 per year,drive any car. 5009 W. Point Loma Blvd. Phone Bafview 0422.

FOR RENT—3-room furn. house with garage $12 month, water paid. 4414 Santa Monica avenue. 32tfc.

6-Room House For Sale or Trade. A Bargain. 4975 Del Monte Ave. 36p

HOLDRIDGE — HOUSES $12 up. Phone BV-0192. 2147 Bacon St. 29tfc.

HAT REMODELING A SPECIALTY
SEWING—NOTIONS
Mrs.Haile, 4969 Voltaire st. 34-37p

If you want to rent or sell your property list with me. As business has greatly improved I need new listings. Bert Wenrich, 2029 Bacon. 25tfc.

CHICKENS—R. I. R.—FRYERS 2 lbs. and up — 30c lb. dressed. LOMA ALTA Rabbitry & Hatchery 4247 Montalvo St. BV 1324 35p

RESTYLING—REFASHIONING — Sleeves 50c, necklines 50c, hems faced 50, sideseams, waistlines 50c 4839 Long Branch, Mrs.Hall. 37tfc

Dependable mothers helper, 17, Sat. housework, care children evenings. BV-0773-W.—Dorothy. 30p

CAMP HOLIDAY AUTO COURT
Cottages, day, week or month, with or without bedding. 5075 Niagara Avenue. 13tfc

See Dumont for rentals, real estate and insurance, 2137 Sunset Cliffs Blvd., Bayview 0944-J.

AUTO PAINTING—For estimate on quality work see Ted Hopkins, 4361 Saratoga avenue, Ocean Beach or call L J 2374, 7838 Herschel avenue. 14tfc

FOR SALEWell located beauty shop. Good equipment and paying business. All clear and fine opportunity for one or two women. Call BV 0741. 24tfc.

John H. L. Vogt, accompanied by MacLean Wilson were Ocean Beach visitors Monday morning, calling on old friends and making new acquaintances. Mr. Vogt is a candidate for supervisor from District No. 5, which includes the north half of San Diego county and up to the Ocean Beach bridge at Mission bay. MacLean Wilson was a resident here about 1931 and has many Kiwanian friends who were pleased to have the pleasure of a short visit.

Patronize The News Advertisers.

Professional Cards

MARVIN R. EBY, M. D.
Physician and Surgeon
Phone Bayview 0256-R
1920 Bacon St. Ocean Beach

JOHN PARKS GILMER, M. D.
PHYSICIAN AND SURGEON
Kraft Bldg., 1889 Bacon Street
Telephones Eye Clinic Saturdays
Office: BV 1007-J 10 A.M. to 12 N.
Res: BV 0581
Res. 4876 West Point Loma Blvd.

Drs. WATTERS & WATTERS
Osteopathic Physicians
Phone Bayview 1162
5002 Niagara Ave., Ocean Beach

Dr. I. W. PARKS
DENTIST
X - RAYS
Office Phone Bayview 0702
Residence Phone Bayview 0438-J
Kraft Bldg. - - Ocean Beach

ADAMS' BARBER SHOP
1927 Bacon Street
NRA MEMBER U.S. WE DO OUR PART
"It Pays To Look Well"

Try Our
Full Milk Bread
Sliced or Unsliced
O. B. Bakery
Corner Newport & Bacon Sts.
Phone Bayview 0882

Obituary Sam D. Dodds

DEATH TAKES S. D. DODDS, LONG FOE OF SMUGGLERS

Spanish War veteran, former immigration inspector, dies in California

(Buffalo, N. Y., Courier-Express)

Samuel D. Dodds, former immigration inspector, nemesis of Chinese smugglers along the Niagara Frontier twenty years ago and reputed to have been one of the foremost agents in the United States immigration service died Monday in Mercy Hospital, San Diego, California, according to word received in Buffalo last night. He was 55 years old. Pneumonia caused his death.

As officer in charge of special government detail sent to Buffalo from Washington in 1914 to break up a formidable Chinese smuggling ring operating along the border, Inspector Dodds gained a reputation for efficiency and fearlessness in combatting the syndicate engaged in smuggling Chinese into the United States from Canada.

Inspector Dodds arrived in Buffalo shortly after a boat, into which twelve Chinese had been herded by smugglers, was wrecked in a gale at the gap in the breakwater off the foot of South Michigan Avenue. The smugglers escaped, but the Chinese were drowned.

Incensed by the boldness with which the syndicate was operating, the government declared open warfare on the Chinese smuggling ring. Inspector Dodds and his men were placed in charge of the border from Buffalo to Lewiston. The government provided a motorboat manned by inspectors trained in marksmanship to round up the smugglers with orders to shoot to kill.

The campaign continued until 1917 when the leaders were rounded up, convicted in federal court and sentenced by former Judge John R. Hazel to serve terms in the federal penitentiary at Atlanta, Ga.

"Sam Dodds was one of the most fearless men in the immigration service," Benjamin Gold, inspector in charge of the Buffalo district, said last night. "He long was the foe of the gang operating along the frontier, and while they feared him, they respected him. He had a reputation for efficiency and honesty."

Mr. Dodds retired from the immigration service in 1928. With his wife Mrs. Lillian Duell Dodds, he moved to San Diego. He was a member of Seyburn-Liscum Camp No. 12, United Spanish War Veterans, and of the Veterans of Foreign Wars. He saw service in Cuba and in the Philippines.

Besides his wife, he is survived by his brother, Frank H. Dodds, 585 Parkside Avenue, and four sisters, Mrs. Margaret Scherff, Mrs. Mary Terry, Mrs. Adele Seeger and Miss Elizabeth Dodds, all of Peoria, Ill.

M. E. CHURCH SERVICES

Rev. James Hughes, newly appointed pastor to the church, will preach at the 11 o'clock service. His sermon topic will be "The First and Last Imperatives."

The Rev. Mr. Hughes recently received the degree of Master of Theology from the University of Southern California. He also received his A. B. degree from the same institution, and has done special work in the field of religious education at Boston University.

The church school begins at 9:45, and offers classes in religious instruction for all age groups, from kindergarten to adults.

Epworth League service at 7 p. m. for high school and college age young people.

The News does Job Printing

BEACH BALLROOM OPEN

Public dances were resumed at Mission Beach ballroom Wednesday continuing thru Sunday, with music by Laurie Higgins' orchestra, H. L. Northern, manager said. The new schedule of prices will include admission and dancing.

Bath house and plunge will be open Friday from 10 a. m. to 6 p. m. and Saturday and Sunday from 10 a. m. to 10 p. m.

FOR RENT SIGNS—5c and 10c at The Ocean Beach News.

Ocean Beach CLEANERS
1930 Bacon Street
Phone Bayview 0030
WE CALL FOR AND DELIVER
GIVE US A TRIAL

GOODWILL INDUSTRIES DOUBLES BUSINESS

Rev. Myron Insko of Ocean Beach, who surrendered his church here the first of this month to devote all his time and energies to the San Diego County Goodwill Industries, of which he has been superintendent ever since its organization more than four years ago, has just submitted to his board of directors a report for the month of June, in which he contrasts the work being done now with that twelve months ago. He finds that cash receipts from store sales have increased 104% in that period, cash wages paid out have increased 110%, and the quantity of materials donated by altruistic residents of the county increased 79%.

NEW CHEF AT NEWPORT CAFE

Mrs. Pauline Calvert, experienced restaurant woman, has taken over the management of Kraft's Newport cafe. Mrs. Calvert will specialize in home style cooking with all pastry and other foods done in her own kitchen.

See All The Others
Then See The
Stewart-Warner Refrigerator
STRAND RADIO Co.
(Next Door to Post Office)
4985 Newport Avenue Phone Bayview 0414

FRIED'S JULY CLEARANCE
Children's Pantie Dresses, sizes 1 to 6, 49c; sizes 7 to 14, 79c
Ladies Beach Pajamas 49c — Play Suits, size 4 to 18 $1.00
Women's Wool Swim Suits $1.50 — Boys Dungarees 69c
Ladies White or Biege Leather Oxfords $1.75
Men's Dress Pants ..... $1.80 — White Duck Pants $1.45
Good Grade Sheets .... $1.25 — Plaid Blankets 95c
Indian Design Camp Blankets $1.95

Sporting Goods, Paints, Glass
Chicken Feed, Dog Foods
Beach Chairs and Equipment
RICHLEY'S
Sherwin-Williams Paint Headquarters
1926 Bacon St. Ocean Beach Telephone 0020
CLOSED SATURDAY NOON FOR SUMMER MONTHS

Ocean Beach Business Directory

AGNES G. ELLS, 4845 Muir Ave. R.E., Rentals, Notary, Ins.

TONY'S DeLOMA CONFECTIONARY, 5026 Newport Ave.
Beer and Wines on tap. Candy, Cigars, Tobaccos and Lunches

GUS' PLACE LUNCHES, BEER ON DRAUGHT CIGARS, TOBACCOS, ICE CREAM 5049 Newport Ave.

Baybrige Cafe West Point Loma Boulevard
TRY OUR FAMOUS SANDWICHES AND STEAKS.

Central Cleaners, Bayvw 0122, 4959 Voltaire
Palmer Brothers, Props. Send us your most delicate garments.
We Call and Deliver. Suits Pressed While You Wait.

Cora Brooks Beauty Shop BV 0193
5005 Newport Avenue, Expert Hair Shaping, Dyeing, Permanents

COOPER Pharmacy 4904 Voltaire--BV 0880
(Successor to Griswold Pharmacy)
Bargains in Drug Sundries, Beach Goods, Toilet Articles, Fountain

Jack's Book Store, 5046 Newport Avenue
WE BUY, SELL and EXCHANGE BOOKS and MAGAZINES

Lewis B. Peterson, Watchmaker and Jeweler
5041 Newport Avenue—Full line of Good Quality Merchandise.

Main Pool Hall, 5065 Newport Ave.
Bert Shaffer, Proprietor—Cigars Tobaccos and Soft Drinks.

Ocean Beach Arrow Transfer, BV 0136
Wood and Coal, Pianos for Rent at $2 mo.and up. Gene Henderson
Storage, Daily Trips to San Diego. 1877 Bacon Street

Ocean Beach Beauty Shop BV 0885
5035 NEWPORT AVENUE

Ocean Beach Hdwe Co. 5008 Newport Ave
Hardware, Paints, Glassware, Fishing Tackle. Bayview 004

Ocean Beach Plumbing Co. BV. 015
Chas.H.Peltcher, 14 years in Ocean Beach 5050 Newport Ave

O.W. JORDAN, Plumbing and Heating BV 013
Water Heaters and Repair Work. 1877 Bacon Street

Strand Radio Co. Free Service Calls BV 041
Radios, Refrigerators, Washing Machines 4985 Newport Ave

The "Wright" Place 1884 Bacon Street
USED FURNITURE, Etc. — A Friendly Place to Trade.